Passing Over of Names By City Police Board No Violation: Schirick

The Kingston Board of Police Commissioners did not violate a Civil Service rule when they passed over the name of Richard T. Cahill in making recent appointments to the city police force.

In a decision handed down by Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick today, the application of Cahill to cancel the appointments is denied and the petition dismissed without costs. It was the contention of petitioner, Richard T. Cahill, that names of prospective police officers, among them his own, had been illegally passed over in making appointments from a civil service list.

Brought in Cahill

Richard T. Cahill, in behalf of himself and others similarly situated made application to the Supreme court for an order under Article 78 of the Civil Practice Act, to compel respondents, Edwin F. Radel, chairman of the police board, Henry Singer, Robert S. Ivory, Lawrence A. Quilty and Henry P. Eighmey, members of the police board, and Philip F. McDonald, president, and Thomas J. Finnerty and Rose Hogan, members of the Kingston Civil Service Board, and City Treasurer Orrie R. Riehl, to show cause why the appointments should not be canceled.

Matthew V. Cahill, former city judge and corporation counsel, appeared on behalf of his son, Richard T. Cahill, 466 Albany Avenue, and William A. Kelly, corporation counsel of the city, appeared for the respondents.

Petition Dismissed

In a memorandum which was mailed counsel this morning, Justice Schirick held the appointments were in accordance with Civil Service Rules and dismissed the petition of Cahill.

In arguing the motion Cahill held that the Civil Service list contains 26 names of eligible candidates which was promulgated by the Municipal Civil Service Commission on May 13, 1958, as a result of a competitive examination, was a valid list, but that violation of law occurred in appointing the troopers on June 24, July 28, September 10 and September 18.

It was the contention of counsel for Richard T. Cahill, that the board of police commissioners skipped over numbers one and three, appointing numbers one, four, five, six and seven, but that number eight was not apparently considered.

Richard T. Cahill was number three on the Civil Service list.

Charges Illegal Payments

Later a second list was called for and submitted, containing names from number nine through 16 but not listing one.

Eastern Second Major Airline Hit by Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With the Thanksgiving travel rush about to start, a second major airline was struck today. Flight engineers and machinists walked off their jobs at Eastern Air Lines.

Trans World Airline had 200 planes grounded in the fourth day of a strike by 6,700 machinists.

American Airlines faced a strike threat by its pilots, with a prospect of an operational shutdown after a walkout deadline at midnight Tuesday.

7,000 Idled

Another labor dispute shut down the Studebaker-Packard automobile plant at South Bend, Ind., today where 7,000 United Auto Workers quit their jobs.

There were strikes also in the farm equipment and tractor industry involving 50,000 UAW employees of International Harvester and the Caterpillar Tractor Co.

The strike of 600 flight engineers at Eastern Air Lines was supported by unions representing some 7,000 other employees. Eastern started preparations for a complete shutdown of its operations in 25 states, Canada, Puerto Rico, Mexico and Bermuda could not continue.

Machinists refused to cross the engineers' picket lines and said they also were on strike.

Florida Travel Hit

In particular, the strike at Eastern hit the heavy seasonal migration of winter vacationers to Florida. The engineers object to an airline demand that they take pilot training. Wages and working conditions also were in dispute.

The TWA strike, which idled some 12,000 employees besides the 6,700 striking members of the International Assn. of Machinists, was the subject of a special government mediation effort.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service sent one of its top negotiators to the airline's Kansas City headquarters to seek a settlement.

As labor troubles also beset small airline companies, Capital Airlines resumed partial service after ending of a 37-day strike by 2,600 machinists. Normal passenger traffic was expected to be resumed Wednesday.

Capital machinists accepted a

41-cent-an-hour increase over a three-year period, bringing their top pay to $2.95 an hour. A TWA spokesman said the company's final wage offer was almost the same as accepted by machinists of Capital and Northwest Airlines. The union's last contract with TWA provided for wages ranging from $1.45 an hour for kitchen helpers to $2.61 for machinists with 13 years experience.

At Indianapolis, 33 stewardesses of Lake Central Airlines struck at midnight in a dispute over wages. They hoped pilots would refuse to cross their picket lines and ground the line's aircraft in six Midwest and Eastern states. Picket lines were set up in Indianapolis, Chicago and Columbus, Ohio. The line also serves cities in Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York.

Reach Tentative Accord

The machinists union, in dispute with three smaller airline companies, reached a tentative agreement early today on a new contract with West Coast Airlines. A union spokesman said the contract was subject to ratification of the 86 mechanics who struck the airline four days ago. The company serves 41 cities in Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

The union has authorized a strike against Pacific Airlines, which operates in California and Nevada, but no date was set. The union also is in dispute with North-east Airlines.

In the auto industry, Studebaker-Packard production workers at South Bend, Ind., rejected a company wage increase proposal tied to new car sales and voted to strike today. The walkout, approved by the United Auto Workers Local 5, would idle 7,000 employees. Management and union representatives continued efforts to reach an agreement.

New UAW Pact

There was a bright spot in the labor picture, too. A new three-year master contract was reached by Bendix Aviation Corp. and the United Auto Workers. It covered 13,500 workers in eight cities and

Additional Tips Given On Mailing

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk is pleased with the prompt response to his recently announced "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign. He said today, "The biggest single factor in getting all mail delivered before Christmas is the full cooperation of the public in early mailing of all cards and gifts. Post office facilities have been expanded, extra personnel will be available, and everything is geared up to handle a record Yule mail in Kingston this year."

With Christmas only a month away, the postmaster says it's not a bit too soon to start following three simple rules to insure delivery of gifts before Christmas: Wrap them securely, address them correctly, and mail them early.

Wrap Securely

"The postmaster said, 'don't take chances on mailing poorly wrapped packages. Use corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy brown wrapping paper, and be sure that every package is tied with strong cord. Cartons containing several gift packages should be stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the contents.'"

The postmaster also reminds "that size and weight limitations for parcel post packages vary according to place of mailing destination." He suggests that people secure Pamphlet No. 2 at the post office, which tells all about packaging and wrapping parcels. "Always include an extra label with your return address and the recipients address inside the carton or package before it is wrapped," he said.

Give Full Address

"Careful addressing of Christmas cards is equally important," the postmaster said. "Bring your Christmas card mailing list up-to-date and be certain that you have the complete name, address, zone number, city and state for everyone on your list."

"Always send your Christmas

100 Employees Are Called for Quiz On Jamaica Track

NEW YORK (AP) — About 100 parimutuel employees of Jamaica Race Track have been called for questioning today and tomorrow before the State Commission of Investigation.

An inquiry by the commission into the track's operations was disclosed Saturday.

Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet declined to say why the employees had been subpoenaed. But he said the investigation "may involve the conduct of a public official or public officials."

"I cannot tell you what it is all about," he added. "It would tip our hand."

DeSapio Says Challenge of His District Leadership Good Sign

NEW YORK (AP) — Tammany Hall Leader Carmine G. DeSapio says a challenge to his district leadership by insurgent Democrats is "a healthy sign characteristic of Democratic action at the local political level."

In a television interview Sunday, DeSapio said he bore no resentment against the insurgents.

Was Insurgent Himself

"I would have to be a terrible hypocrite to resent the right of any element to challenge my district leadership, especially since I myself was elected to that position as an insurgent," he said.

DeSapio is party leader in the First Assembly District. He said 80 per cent of the Tammany district leaders had won their positions as insurgents. Frequent challenges are needed to keep professional politicians from developing "the kind of apathy and complacency which is the bane of any political organization," he said.

Upstate Wants Say

The insurgents have opened headquarters in the Fifth Assembly District (north) in a campaign to unseat DeSapio as leader of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization, and his political allies as district leaders.

There is also a movement by Upstate Democratic county chairmen to get more say in the state organization. They say they are not out to remove DeSapio's influence.

Looking toward the 1960 presidential election, DeSapio predicted Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would not be a candidate against Vice President Richard Nixon for the Republican nomination.

Points to Promise

"I see no reason to suppose that Mr. Rockefeller will fail to honor his repeated promises to the people of New York that he does not consider himself to be a candidate for any other office between now and 1962, when he

FBI Crime Index Shows Increase Over 1957 Period

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI said today crime increased by 11 per cent in the first nine months of this year, compared with the corresponding period in 1957.

Based on preliminary reports from cities over 25,000 population, the FBI crime index showed the following increases for seven types of offenses:

Robbery, 18 per cent; burglary, 14 per cent; forcible rape, 13 per cent; larceny (over $50), 13 per cent; auto theft, 5 per cent; murder, 3 per cent; aggravated assault, 2 per cent.

Tompkins Says Data On Ashby Due in Week

A charge of "smear" in connection with a communication questioning the "fitness" of Edwin W. Ashby, Ulster County Commissioner of jurors was challenged today by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins.

The smear charge was made Saturday in a letter from Paul Rosen of Poughkeepsie, counsel for Ashby.

Jury Asks Action

The special grand jury investigating kickbacks voted last Friday to direct Tompkins to submit a communication to the Ulster County Jury Board in connection with the fitness of Ashby to serve as commissioner.

Tompkins prepared such a communication which was delivered to the chambers of Justice Roscoe V. Ellsworth, a member of the jury board. Its contents have not been disclosed.

Courtesy to Board

Tompkins said today that the reason the text of the communication had not been released was "out of courtesy to the county jury board which consists of two justices of the supreme court and a supervisor of Ulster County. It was felt that propriety required that they be given a chance to meet and

Tito Says West Is 'More Realistic'

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —President Tito lashed out in a new oral assault on the Moscow bloc Sunday and declared the West was more realistic than the Communists in relations with Yugoslavia.

"We agree often with the Soviet Union on foreign policy issues but the West does not consider that we should be attacked for that. They somehow look on us more realistically than those in the East," he told a mass meeting.

Main Interest of Nixon, Rockefeller Now Is Rebuilding Republican Party

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon and Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently have reached an understanding to avoid stepping on each other's political toes until 1960.

A weekend conference here between the vice president and the Republican governor-elect of New York produced an informal agreement pointed publicly at cooperation between them in rebuilding the GOP from its heavy election year.

Endorses Nixon View

Rockefeller endorsed a thesis Nixon first advanced in October—that the party will be best served if it develops a number of men of national stature as possible presidential nominees for 1960.

While Nixon makes no secret that he wants that nomination, Rockefeller said he is interested only in doing a good job as governor of New York. Asked if this wasn't the best way to run for president, Rockefeller only grinned.

Taken as Sign

Rockefeller's statement that he intends to confine his activities to New York was taken as assurance he will not personally interfere in the spade work Nixon's supporters are engaged in elsewhere.

Nixon, on the other hand, obviously is not going to intrude in New York, where Rockefeller is expected to have control of the largest of the state delegations to the convention two years from now.

Not Like Stassen

It also seems implicit in the understanding between the two men that Rockefeller will not lend his support to any stop-Nixon move such as Harold E. Stassen is trying to get off the ground.

Stassen, a former aide to President Eisenhower, pointedly omitted Nixon's name and included Rockefeller's in a personal listing of possible candidates for the 1960 GOP nomination.

In response to a question, Rockefeller said it seemed so obvious Nixon's name belongs on any list of prospects "that it hardly needs my comment to reassure him."

Stassen tried without success to dump Nixon from the GOP national ticket in 1956.

His Candidate Now

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), who won re-election this month in the face of a national Democratic sweep, said Nixon is "my candidate" now for the presidential nomination.

Goldwater said in a radio-TV interview that Rockefeller should receive consideration in 1960 if he does a good job as governor and, as Goldwater put it, doesn't "take up the radical cry of the Democrats."

Nixon, who leaves today with Mrs. Nixon for a visit to London, already is giving thought to presidential primaries two years hence.

He probably will enter several primaries if this seems necessary at the time.

If Rockefeller sticks to his knitting in New York, he could be expected to keep his name off these primary ballots and to discourage others who want to use his name in running.

Nixon and Rockefeller, who have met frequently for years, are portrayed by their associates as good friends with a healthy respect for each other's political abilities.

Good Friends

Neither is likely to be trapped into any derogatory statement about the other at this time.

It will be relatively easy for them to maintain their understanding for the next year. But some think the story may be different when 1960 rolls around.

Talks With Lawyers on Decision Won't Give Data On Road Oil Co.

Morgan D. Ryan, a former official of Ulster Bituminous Corp., was sentenced to 30 days in Ulster County Jail this morning by Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg for refusal to answer questions before a special grand jury investigating kickbacks.

An order of commitment was presented to Justice Greenberg at 12:30 p. m. At a press conference following the sentencing, however, Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins said he was more interested in the "information" Mr. Ryan has than in any desire for punishment. If Mr. Ryan would agree to testify fully, honestly, I personally would make an application to the court to remit the sentence.

"On the other hand, if Mr. Ryan foolishly insists on being a martyr we have no alternative but to afford him that privilege." Before sentencing Ryan, Justice Greenberg offered him the opportunity to change his mind and testify in future appearances before the grand jury.

Says Matter 'Grave One'

He said he wanted Ryan to appreciate that the matter was a grave one and that Ryan's reputation and standing in the community was at stake. He urged him, solemnly and only to obtain justice, he said, to testify and not "protect" anyone. He asked Ryan if he would like 10 minutes to think it over. Ryan answered affirmatively and retired with his counsel, N. Le Van Haver and John Egan, for consultation.

Haver said, when the court was convened again, that Ryan would be willing to appear before the grand jury and testify as best he could to matters involving certain sources of funds but that he would not answer questions in connection with Ulster Bituminous transactions, or with transactions, or alleged transactions, with town officials, on the grounds that it might tend to incriminate him.

Position Not Accepted

Justice Greenberg said Ryan's position was not acceptable.

He said that in a preliminary application to the court last week Ryan's counsel had asked Greenberg to disqualify himself on several grounds, charging that he was predisposed to judge the case.

He said that the charges were "hardly worthy" of any consideration and the motion at that time was categorically dismissed. Justice Greenberg pointed out, however, that despite this denial, Ryan's counsel had consumed 21 of 36 pages of a memorandum submitted Friday in a further discussion of this matter of the court's qualification.

He said he was "at a loss to understand" why there should have been such a repetition of arguments espoused of unless it stemmed from a desire to embarrass the court—"and the court is not embarrassed"—or for further delay, or in the hope that the court may be incited to the point of doing something which could possibly result in his dis-

40,000 to Brave Alaska Cold in 1st State Poll

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Between 35,000 and 40,000 residents are expected to brave snow and bitter cold in many parts of this vast territory Tuesday to vote in the first state election.

Democrats are heavily favored in the balloting for two new United States senators, one congressman, governor, secretary of state and 60 members of Alaska's first State Legislature.

There seemed general agreement that E. L. Bartlett, Democratic delegate to Congress for the past 14 years, would win one Senate seat easily. The race between Republican Gov. Mike Stepovich and ex-Gov. Ernest Gruening, a Democrat, appeared close.

The campaign drew big-name political figures from the states. Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Interior Secretary Fred M. Seaton toured the territory for Republicans and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) campaigned for Democrats.

Nixon Says Hays Defeat 'Tragic,' Prejudice Victim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon says Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), defeated by a strong segregationist, was a "victim of demagoguery and prejudice."

Nixon expressed his regret in a letter to Hays, saying: "I can say without qualification that there was no more tragic result of this last election, from the standpoint of the nation, than your defeat in Arkansas."

Hays, who says he is a moderate on the segregation issue, was beaten for re-election Nov. 4 by Dr. Dale Alford, an avowedly strong foe of the Supreme Court's decision against school segregation. Alford ran as a write-in candidate in winning the Little Rock district Hays has represented for 16 years.

The vice president said in part: "When statesmanship of the type you represent in such an exemplary way becomes the victim of demagoguery and prejudice, it is time for men of good will in both of our major parties in all sections of the country to exert more positive leadership in developing the public understanding on the issue of civil rights which is essential if America is to continue to be a nation of responsible laws rather than irresponsible men."

Contralto Silences Delegates

Marian Anderson Prefers To Work Quietly With UN

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—When Marian Anderson was chosen as an American delegate to the U.N., a friend told her: "We're expecting great things of you."

After two months of the General Assembly session, her friends may be disappointed that the Negro contralto hasn't turned the U. N. into a sounding board for her ideals of international goodwill. She prefers to work more quietly. Opening out her palm to an interviewer, she explained: "We try to get in the hand—not the fist."

Describes Tasks
"One speaks out; one sits; one is listened to; one listens; one presents two or three papers," she said, describing her U. N. tasks as impersonally as possible to acknowledge the debt to State Department speech writers and other aides.

Fighting the cold war and negotiating with the Russians she leaves to "others who know more about than myself."

Miss Anderson spends about six hours a day in the Assembly's 81-nation trusteeship committee, a watchdog over more than 100 million Africans and Asians in nations that are technically wards of the U. N. Her job is explaining the U. S. policy of encouraging democracy and independence for the U. N. trust territories when they've emerged far enough from their tribal past to handle their problems.

Shyness at First
"I had felt some shyness, some anxiety about coming into this committee," she told fellow delegates in her first speech. "But ever since the first day one has felt at home here."

Tha' brief introduction, spoken only and with almost musical precision, produced a startling halt to the regular background noise of paper shuffling, whispered chatter and the footfalls of meandering delegates. "You could have heard a pin drop," said committee Chairman Frederick Boland of Ireland.

Miss Anderson is the committee's only Negro delegate from any of the Western nations which administer trust territories. This fact is not lost on her dark-skinned colleagues from Africa and Asia.

Called Good Sign
A delegate from a newly independent nation said privately that Miss Anderson's appointment was a good sign because he felt it showed U. S. policy was growing more liberal toward nations like his own.

A Negro delegate wondered why Miss Anderson did not speak for the United States when the committee was debating South West Africa — a bitterly fought trusteeship issue that really hinges on South Africa's policies of racial segregation in the territory.

Miss Anderson explained that presenting the compromise U. S. view on South West Africa was too difficult a diplomatic assignment for her.

What has she accomplished in two months?
"One wishes to do something," she says. "One should take as active a part as possible. Each little drop of goodwill adds to the river of international understanding."

Free mail delivery was introduced in the larger cities of the United States in 1863.

Think It Through

BETTER CANDIDATES!

My friend, farmer Sam, has come up with another cockeyed notion. Sam says he's for changing the Constitution so nobody but dentists can run for office.

"Ever seen a candidate who wasn't grinning from ear to ear? Wal, you can't grin without teeth. And most of 'em, leastwise them as is over 40, have store teeth."

"Wal, as nobody kin get votes by looking natural and sober-like, if he is sober, the better teeth a guy has, the better candidate he's bound to be."

"And don't we need better candidates? We sure do. Nobody takes better care of the teeth his ma giv him than dentists, and who has better store teeth when his old uns giv out?"

"Dentists kin afford better store teeth because they do each other's teeth for nothin'! The lucky stiff!"

"See my point? Wal, when I seen that picture of Goody Night and Bill Knowland and the President grinnin' at each other out thar in California, just like three tom cats making love, I told my woman that if they'd bin dentists they'd all git theirselves elected. But what happened?"

"My pa won't cotton to this. He says: Don't look a gift horse in the mouth."

"But voters do, I tell him. So let's run dentists. Thar's too many darn lawyers in the legislahur anyways. All they do is write laws nobody kin understand, which makes bizness for them."

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

We Can Only Head Off, Not Recall Venomous Words

Mrs. B. feels a strong dislike for her son's girl.

The other night after Harry had phoned the girl to check their date, his mother said venomously, "Going out again with that fresh little, boy-chasing Millie Hopkins?"

So angry was Harry he ran upstairs without answering. At once his mother began to experience an old familiar anxiety. As soon as she'd finished the dishes she made Harry a cup of cocoa. He not only rejected this peace offering but has scarcely spoken to her since.

She's been very upset about it. Tonight when he left the house without saying goodby, she told herself just as her own mother used to, "You really must learn to control your tongue."

This is stupid counsel.

Mrs. B. can't control her tongue. She's never been able to. All her life it has been blurring out hateful feelings toward other people with an intensity that often frightens her — and promptly involves her in a panic need to apologize.

Mrs. B. is a pious "good" woman. She cannot be casual about her dislike of Millie Hopkins because she has been raised to regard resentment of anyone as a bad, forbidden thing.

So when she feels it, intense dislike of herself is added to her dislike of the other person, creating a violence of feeling that overweighs control of her tongue.

Once the words are out, she's compelled to seek the forgiveness she needs to relax—and recover her ideal of herself as a "good," never-offensive, Christian woman.

To solve that old problem of the uncontrollable tongue, she'd better start working on that pride in her "goodness."

It's expensive. It keeps her in terror of what her tongue may say next. It keeps her self-respect dependent on others' forgiveness.

This discipline is not pleasant for anyone. So I hope she'll really look at that claim of hers to be a supremely Christian woman incapable of sinful dislike of boy-chasing Millie Hopkins.

With her pride in "goodness" reduced, she'll be able to express the dislike casually instead of venomously.

Ad Campaign

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Presbyterians are starting a novel evangelism project here—carried on via newspaper advertisements. The thrice weekly ads will include a message, the offer of a booklet, "The Christian Answer," and a coupon to send in requesting an interview. The experimental campaign, aimed at reaching people not connected with any church, is being handled by a local presbytery committee with the help of an advertising firm. It may be expanded on a large scale in the denomination if it proves successful.

Gen. Pershing suggested in 1920 that the U. S. Army Infantry be motorized and airborne. It wasn't until 1940 that these ideas were carried out.

22 Die in State Mishaps, Three Killed by Guns

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A highway crash in which four college students died was among weekend accidents that took 22 lives in New York State.

Gunfire killed three persons. The highway toll was 17. The college students, all from St. Lawrence University, were killed early Sunday in a two-car collision on a curve near Potsdam.

The victims were John R. Pulice, 21, of Peekskill; Payne A. Thomas, 18, of Westport, Conn.; William J. Mastriani, 19, of Schenectady, and Richard F. Ferguson, 19, of Amsterdam.

Aimed at Bird
Joseph Guilittani, 16, of Rome, was struck Sunday by a blast from a shotgun held by Michael Clough, 17, also of Rome. Clough said he had aimed at a partridge. At Middleburg, Miss Fanny May Shultes, 87, was struck by a bullet from a rifle fired by a hunter in a room above Saturday.

A shotgun being repaired Sunday by Stephen Norbert, 56, of Amenia, discharged and the blast struck him.

Air Force 1st Lt. John E. Tilley, 26, and his wife, Portia, of Burlington, Vt., were killed Saturday in a two-car collision near East Worcester, Otsego County.

Gerald Brennan, 28, of Chittenango, father of five, was drowned Sunday when a boat capsized on Oneida Lake.

These were other accidental deaths between 6 p. m. Friday and midnight Sunday:

Batavia—Bernard C. Roblee, 23, car struck a tree and two utility poles Saturday.

Wilson—Mrs. Eleanor Moot, 67, two-car collision Saturday.

Sodus—Miss May Williams, about 80, struck by car Saturday night.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Harriman is asking New Yorkers to help the needy as one way of observing Thanksgiving Day.

He said Saturday in proclaiming Thursday as Thanksgiving Day that "we Americans have so much to be thankful for."

Harriman urged support of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish charities that aid the destitute abroad.

55, of Eatontown, N. J., struck by a car Saturday.

Uniondale—Teet Rehsear, 18, of Hempstead, and Robert Watson, 19, of Uniondale, car hit a parked truck Sunday.

Central Islip—Michael A. Nazaro, 45, Islip, car struck by a L. I. Rail Road train Saturday morning.

New York—Anthony Evora, 85, fire in his Harlem apartment Saturday night.

Langer Opposes Limiting Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Langer (R-ND) said today he is unalterably opposed to limiting debate in the Senate.

Langer, in letters to all members of the Senate, said he favors civil rights legislation but will not join the move to change Senate rules which would make it easier to pass such legislation.

A group headed by Sens. Paul Douglas (D-IL), Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), Jacob Javits (R-NY) and Clifford Case (R-NJ) is preparing a fight at the opening of the new Congress in January to change Rule 22.

The rule requires two-thirds of the full Senate, or 64 votes, to break a filibuster. The group seeking the change wants to permit closure of debate by a constitutional majority, or 50 votes among the Senate's 98 members.

The Senate of the United States, Langer said, is the one place left in this world for free and untrammeled discussion.

LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE PREPARED

Approximately one and one half million dollars have been mailed out by local banks in Christmas Club checks. This amount is larger than in previous years and more people received checks this year than ever before.

Christmas Club members have been saving in this special fund for the past twelve months and they plan to spend most of it in holiday shopping. Local merchants know that this annual distribution is a stimulant to business and in anticipation of the increased buying during the holiday season have made great preparation for the sales event. The quality of merchandise now on display in the local stores assures shoppers that their demands for Christmas buying can be satisfied here. Local merchants through the advertising columns of The Freeman also are letting the people of the area know that their stores are well stocked with the latest quality merchandise to take care of their shopping needs.

Why not plan to visit the stores now and enjoy making your selections? Last minute shopping often results in vexation with the result that the real enjoyment of Christmas shopping is lost. Avoid the last minute rush by starting your Christmas shopping this week.

OPEN EARLY FOR CHRISTMAS

If you believe that you're the best driver in the world, or that you know how to do 50 on an icy road, or that a couple of drinks sharpen your reflexes, be smart:

Open your Christmas presents now. You might have time to enjoy them.

THE FEASTING DAYS

Thanksgiving, originally a day of humble gratitude for our blessings, has come to be largely a time of big eating. Yet the Thanksgiving dinner of today is only a pale shadow of its former self. Those who have passed middle life sometimes recall with awe the huge repasts of their youth.

The first course was oyster stew, a meal in itself. Then turkey, with cranberry sauce and mashed potatoes, several vegetables, and a salad course. During this last the children often were allowed a brief absence to prepare themselves for dessert. At least four kinds of pie were available: mince, apple pumpkin or squash, and cranberry; also plum pudding, and often ice cream. Then nuts, raisins, grapes.

Where did the diners put it all? We don't pretend to know, but we do know that their stomachs had lots of practice. People ate more in those days.

Breakfast was hearty—steak, chops or bacon and eggs, fried potatoes, and as often as not griddle cakes, also. Lunch and dinner—or dinner and supper, as they were more likely to be called in that era—were along similarly heroic lines. That doesn't account for our ancestor's capacity, but it's a hint.

Being sure he is right doesn't always mean it is safe for a driver to go ahead. The car of a driver who is wrong may be in the way.

A defeated Congresswoman's husband sues her secretary for alienation of affections. Looks like the voters' affection was alienated, too.

DRINKING DRIVERS

The National Safety Council has launched a campaign to cut down the Christmas traffic toll, sizeable percentage of which is due to drinking and driving.

Surveys made by the Council indicate that these traffic accidents occur in the early hours of the holiday period and many can be traced back to the office party and its highball hilarity.

The Council emphasizes that this is not an effort to dampen the traditional Christmas spirit. It is a practical attempt to eliminate a definite source of death and destruction on the highway at a time they hurt the most—the Christmas season.

The Council is asking its 8,000 business

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
CODDLING OUR ENEMIES

The first task of a nation is self-defense. If a nation is unable to defend itself by arms, of by diplomacy or by some other means, it is likely to be absorbed by powerful neighbors and its people will lose their independence.

The United States, as a government, knows administratively that its objective enemy, Soviet Russia, through the Communist Party, engages in efforts to overthrow the American way of life by numerous direct and devious means. The United States, juridically, declines to take cognizance of such facts.

The difference of view arises out of certain constitutional provisions which have at different times been interpreted differently. The right to travel appears nowhere in the Constitution. There is no provision which gives a citizen the right to move at all. On the other hand, some claim that the right to travel arises out of the "pursuit of happiness" in the Declaration of Independence or the "general welfare" phrase in the Preamble to the Constitution.

Up to the most recent decisions of the Supreme Court, the granting of a passport was the function of the State Department, although early in our history there were other provisions. The passport has been variously interpreted but it has come to mean, throughout the world, a statement from one government to another, that the person holding such a document is in good standing in his own country and that he is likely to be satisfactory in another. At any rate, it is a mark of identification.

The Supreme Court's decisions in passport cases have not clearly defined the passport. That, of course, is up to Congress. However, as one effect of those decisions, as Roderic O'Connor of the State Department pointed out in an address, recently 596 "applications (were received) for passports from persons who have records of activity in support of the international Communist movement. Before the Supreme Court's decision many of those persons had been refused passports or had abandoned their applications when asked to identify themselves as Communists. Since the decision, these persons have moved promptly to take advantage of the breach in our defenses. They are getting their passports while the getting is good."

O'Connor does not go further than to say that this is a dangerous situation. What he means by that is spelled out by examples rather than by an assertion of a principle. But when the examples are added up, it is quite possible to say that American passports are being given to persons who are by conviction or by profession engaged in doing damage to the United States.

The State Department cannot help itself in view of the decisions of the Supreme Court. For instance, Roderic O'Connor reports:

"We have had to give passports to such ardent Communist supporters as Hugh Hurdymen and Anita and Henry Wilcox, all of whom attended a Commie 'Peace Conference' in 1957 at Peking, in Red China, in evasion of passport restrictions. All of them made statements accusing the United States of using germ warfare in the Korean conflict."

Congress needs to act early with regard to the passport situation. Congress needs to pass a law clearly defining a passport, clearly defining who is entitled to a passport and who is not so entitled, and what are the limitations of the State Department in the issuance of such passports. Granted that the courts have opened the doors as wide as they can ever be, it is up to Congress to pass a constitutional law so that a passport is not just a piece of paper.

As long as Congress fails to pass such a law, the Supreme Court decisions stand and the passport remains merely a card of identification and not an accurate one at that. It might just as well be issued for alien spies, murderers, thieves, heroin pushers and anybody else. It simply means that a guy enjoys freedom to travel—it means that and nothing more and no notice is served on a foreign country to the effect that if you do not beware the fellow will steal the family silver. As it stands, it is, indeed, a very crude concept of a passport. On the other hand should one of these subversives get into trouble anywhere, the likelihood is that his family will demand that the Marines be sent to rescue him.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Martyrdom Is Poor Basis To Get Child's Cooperation

Last year the city public school attended by the B. children, became overcrowded, and Mrs. B. feared her children would receive an inferior education.

She succeeded in having a private school take her younger son on scholarship. However, the school denied one to his older brother, Russell.

After talking it over with her husband, Mrs. B. took a job in a department store to pay for Russell's tuition.

One evening, Russell wouldn't get down to his English homework. Instead of writing a composition on what he'd have felt about Thanksgiving if he'd been a Pilgrim child, he insisted on looking at magazine pictures of a missile launching.

Pressed by his mother to get going, he protested that his teacher was a sorcerer whom nobody could please, and that he was tired of figuring out what Pilgrim boys felt anyway.

Mrs. B. snatched Russell's magazine away from him. She said, "I should think you'd be ashamed of yourself! I stand on my feet all afternoon working to get you a decent education—and you can't even do your homework."

"I don't like my supervisor any more than you like Miss Baldwin. But I do what I'm told for your sake."

This speech so subdued Russell that he wrote his composition.

The trouble is, he continued being subdued. He's stopped protesting Miss Baldwin's behavior. He's stopped complaining about the kids down the block who harass his confidants and goings. He no longer reminds his mother when his allowance is due—and becomes very agitated before school tests.

Mrs. B. thinks, "What a lovely change. Now at last Russ has got down to brass tacks."

Russ hasn't got down to brass tacks at all. He's just terrified of disappointing the noble parent who stands on her feet all afternoon for him.

Working mothers often experience resentment at the two demands of home and job. We should try to accept it as natural. If we don't, we'll start glorifying it as Mrs. B. did—and force children to try and appear as noble and long-suffering as we are.

If we can't accept it, we'll do well to quit working. Nothing we can buy children is worth the burden of obligation our martyrdom put on them.

and industrial member concerns to take a new look at their office parties and either keep the cork in the bottle or eliminate the bottles.

It is tragically ironic to celebrate a holiday dedicated to "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men" and then send people out on the public highway in a condition to injure or destroy their fellow men.

An ideal way to demonstrate the true Christmas spirit would be for every driver to stay away from the wheel of his car after drinking.

Washington News

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When Alaska holds its first big general election Nov. 25, don't scan the papers looking for quick final returns. It may take 10 days before they're doggedled in from the deep freeze up north.

Already the long Arctic night shadows the northern zones. The noontime five-below temperatures common to Fairbanks these days give you an idea. At Point Barrow, northerly outpost, daily average readings in a few weeks will be 17 below zero.

No politician ever had a bigger bailiwick than Alaska with its 586,000 square miles. Major candidates need the regular air-lanes, the bush pilots, Alaska's six TV stations and the radio to scratch their marks on this vastness.

Yet weather and space aren't the only distinguishing things about Alaska's first grow-up election.

THE VOTER MAY FREEZE his eyebrows on the way to the polls. But when he gets there he'll find matters fairly simple. Since there's no prior registration, he can just sign his name and vote.

In Alaska the voting age is 19. New voters up through age 22 are expected to flock to the polls in eager numbers which could total 13,000.

However, with only some 210,000 people sprinkled over Alaska's spaces, the overall vote won't be large. Until this year's primary, 30,000 was a whooper.

Double that number turned out for the primary to settle three statewide issues and record preferences among candidates for two U. S. Senate seats, a U. S.

House seat, the governorship, and a state legislature enlarged to 80 seats from the 40 in the old territorial body.

With statehood set party election specialists here think the Nov. 25 vote will range around 40,000 to 45,000.

BESIDES THE FLEDGLINGS, this election may bring out some fair-sized minorities. Alaska has 34,000 Eskimos, Indians and Aleuts (natives inhabiting the long westward arc of the Aleutian islands). Perhaps 4,500 Negroes may vote, mostly in Anchorage, the biggest Alaskan city with an area population around 40,000.

Anchorage probably would be the pivot point in a close race. But most observers put only one Alaskan contest in that category — the Senate fight between Democrat Ernest W. Gruening and Republican Mike Stepovich.

A big edge is given to Democrat E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, longtime nonvoting delegate to the U. S. House, over the GOP nominee, R. E. Robertson, elderly former mayor of Juneau, in the other Senate battle.

OTHER PREDICTED DEMOCRATIC winners are William Egan for the governorship over John Butrovich, and Ralph Rivers over Henry Benson for Alaska's lone House seat.

The focus is on Gruening-Stepovich. The 71-year-old Gruening had 13 stormy years as governor under Presidents Roosevelt and Truman. Stepovich, 39, was President Eisenhower's appointee as governor. He quit in midyear to make the Senate run.

With his eight children and his vigorous personality, Stepovich appears to have a big hold on Alaskan youth. In the "popularity" primary he beat Gruening by upwards of 5,500 votes.

Diversion of Union Funds To Politics in Court Test

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—At least $5,000,000, it now is estimated, and perhaps many millions more was spent by labor unions in the recent Congressional campaign, in which they generally supported the Democratic party candidates. When final reports are filed, these may show that as much as $10,000,000—more than the regular organizations of both political parties together collected—was expended throughout the nation by the labor unions, though it may be difficult to get a complete accounting.

The AFL-CIO, in preliminary reports for Congressional candidates of about $1,200,000, but money presumably spent for state candidates has not yet been compiled, though the same effort helps Federal candidates simultaneously. It has been admitted already in the official records at Sacramento that nearly $1,900,000 was spent by the labor unions in California alone.

The Federal statutes and many state laws forbid contributions to political campaigns by either corporations or labor unions, but the Department of Justice here for some unexplained reason has got pressed before grand juries the prosecution of those who are engaged today in what by some current definitions might be called a "massive resistance" to the law of the land.

A Georgia court has just declared compulsory union membership to be unconstitutional when it includes the use of dues for political purposes.

Over the week end the oral remarks made by Judge O. L. Long in the Superior Court at Macon, Ga., have become available. He demolishes the argument that the contributions of labor-union members are always "voluntary."

Several union members had complained to the court that their dues were being extorted from them in order to propagate political views to which they objected and to support political candidates to whom they opposed. The same judge on Feb. 3, 1957, had ruled in favor of the fifteen national unions and the seven railways involved in the case as defendants, but the Georgia Supreme Court, calling attention to a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States—ordered the case retried in the lower court on the constitutional issues raised.

The union members had complained that if they resigned from the union they would lose their jobs under the compulsory membership contract in effect between the railways and the unions.

Last Friday's Opinion
Judge Long's oral opinion from the bench last Friday, as reported in the authorized transcript, says:

"Under the stipulation of facts and the evidence I am compelled to the conclusion that the periodic dues and assessments required of all members of the fifteen unions—defendant unions—in order to acquire and retain membership have been, are being and will be used in substantial part for the support of political candidates locally, state-wide and for federal offices.

"I find that the dues and assessments are being used and will be used in part to support, propagate and foster ideological and political doctrines to which

If corporations were found to be using stockholders' money for any similar purpose or using their corporate power to coerce individuals to contribute to political campaigns, there certainly would be a howl, but, when national labor unions do it, one wonders how they get away with it. The case in the Georgia court will certainly go to the Supreme Court of the United States on an appeal now being filed. The high court will have to rule on whether the civil rights of union members and their property are being taken away from them without "due process of law" as the phrase is used in the fifth amendment to the constitution.

pick Truman for the Vice Presidency.

When the House Committee on Un-American Activities tried to nail Lowenthal down concerning his acquaintance with questionable figures Lowenthal wigged away with bluster and evasions.

Congressman Dondero of Michigan later said in a speech on the floor: "By pulling strings Lowenthal acquired the title of Adviser to General Clay in Germany — he has as assistant George Shaw Wheeler, the American traitor, Communist and renegade who shocked all America when he denounced the land of his birth and asked Czechoslovakia for asylum."

In one of the Senate investigations of subversion, Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, named by witness as chief of Communist cell in the Alger Hiss days, refused to answer whether he knew Lowenthal. So did Fred Knapp, Lowenthal's wife, who said "I plead my privilege" concerning questions about Lowenthal.

So They Say..

What we have in a Democratic Congress is a two-handed poker game between Northern politicians and Southern politicians where progress and working men and the minority citizens are always the losers.

—Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell.

The geographical boundary lines which separate the American republics bear some resemblance to the barbed wire fences of the dire concentration camps.

Wonderfully new—from dramatic hardtop styling to convenient Fold-Away 3rd seat

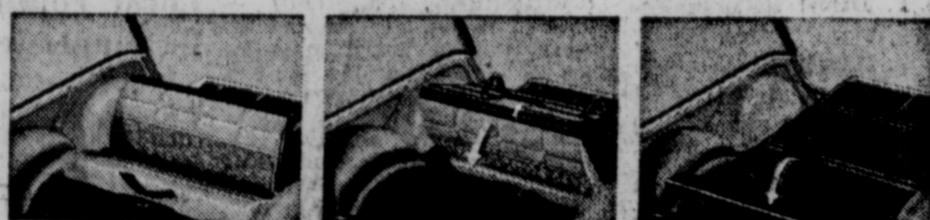

They are called Country Cruisers because they go far beyond the scope of ordinary station wagons.

To bring you the finest quality touches and workmanship, these Country Cruisers are built in a special plant, devoted exclusively to Mercury station wagons. It is the only one of its kind in the industry.

To make them the most beautiful and useful station wagons, they are built with the thoughtfulness and care of custom-built cars.

In addition to the new ideas shown at the right, Mercury offers you the most usable cargo space in any station wagon. More comfort, too. More space between seats—9 inches more leg room up front, 6 inches more entrance room, too.

The new Marauder V-8 engines are as economical as they are brilliant. The quiet smoothness of the ride is matched only by the costliest passenger cars. And there is so much more. See these luxurious Country Cruisers in person at our showroom.

ONLY SELF-STORING THIRD SEAT THAT FACES FORWARD

Passenger space becomes cargo space in seconds in the Country Cruisers. Now the 3rd seat, as well as the 2nd seat, is self-storing. No need to remove seat cushions and haul to garage; the 3rd seat folds down, slides away into a recess in the floor.

NEW! CONCEALED PACKAGE COMPARTMENT
Now... for your valuables, a secret storage space with lid and lock. Conveniently located just in front of the tailgate—a hidden floor "safe."

UNIQUE HARDTOP STYLING—RETRACTABLE REAR WINDOW
No view-blocking pillars with Mercury's hardtop styling. One pillar replaces three found in most wagons. The rear window slides down into tailgate. This eliminates the need for the heavy liftgate.

Heart Attack Is Fatal to Radio's Greek Funny Man

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Harry Einstein, 54, who rose to radio fame as the Greek funnyman Parky-karkas, died of a heart attack today backstage at show business gathering.

Einstein had just finished an hilarious talk at a Friar's Club testimonial dinner for Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz when he collapsed.

He was carried backstage and while some of the nation's top entertainers kept the show going, doctors summoned from the audience made an incision in his chest and massaged his heart.

For two hours they kept his heart pumping by their manipulation but there was no answering response from the heart. Einstein was finally pronounced dead by Dr. Alfred Goldman.

Goldman was one of five doctors in the audience of 1,200 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel who rushed forward when comedian Milton Berle suddenly sent a chill through the gay crowd with his cry: "Is there a doctor in the house?"

Berle was sitting next to Einstein on the speaker's platform. Just after taking his seat following his brief talk, Einstein slumped over with his head falling on Berle's shoulder.

Parky, as everyone called him, had drawn the biggest laughs of the evening during his appearance topping such well-known comics as Berle, George Burns and Danny Thomas.

Parky's wife, the former actress Thelma Leeds, was comforted by her son Clifford, 18. Einstein leaves three other sons, including the novelist Charles Einstein.

Parky was born in Boston and started out as a newspaper reporter and later advertising man there. He was a master of dialects and made an immediate hit as a comedian when he appeared as a guest on the Eddie Cantor show in the early 1930s.

After years as a guest on other leading shows, he got a program of his own. He retired from radio several years ago and limited his performances to night clubs and personal appearances.

Mrs. H. F. Stone, 85, Justice's Widow, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The widow of Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone of the U.S. Supreme Court died Sunday at her Washington home. She was 85.

Mrs. Stone was born in the same community as her husband—Chesterfield, N.H. The chief justice died in 1946.

Mrs. Stone's survivors include two sons, Lauson H. Stone, a New York attorney, and Prof. Marshall H. Stone of the University of Chicago.

qualification. He told Haver he was sorry Haver had found it necessary to spend so much time on a matter which had been fully thrashed out in court on November 17.

He said it showed what a trifling matter can be called to the attention of the court as the basis of disqualification, calling attention to the fact that local attorneys and judges socialize together, the attorneys then appearing before the same court, and no one would say the judges should disqualify themselves. He cited a precedent in which such an objection to the qualification of a judge was "curtly" dismissed.

He pointed out further that a statement in Haver's brief charging Justice Greenberg with being "overzealous" in the performance of his duties was utterly without basis in law, that the judge is an "integral" part of the investigation in a case of this kind.

He said Tompkins had applied to the court for an order of contempt because Ryan, in testimony before the special grand jury, answered questions irreverently, evasively and contemptuously. Ryan testified for almost a day, was warned of his rights and made no use of the privilege, Justice Greenberg stated. Later he refused to answer questions on the grounds that his answers might tend to incriminate him, but his claim to constitutional rights at this time was not in compliance with the law, Greenberg said.

He stated that Ryan did not properly claim his privilege as provided by law and was, therefore, contemptuous in refusing to answer.

He said, in conclusion, that Ryan was found guilty of contempt and sentenced to serve a term of 30 days in Ulster County Jail, the term "to commence forthwith."

Haver then asked to apply for a stay.

Greenberg replied that "under ordinary circumstances" he would have been inclined to grant such a request. He explained that he had spoken to Ryan in his first appearance before the court several weeks ago, advising him to testify before the grand jury, speaking to him as "man to man, as citizen to citizen." Today he was speaking as judicial officer, he said.

No Further Favors
He said he didn't believe any further favor should be accorded the witness and that he could not feel that either Haver or Ryan had any cause for complaint.

Haver rose to point out that Ryan would appear before the grand jury and would claim his privilege at the time the questions were propounded. He would refuse to answer at that time any question he felt would tend to incriminate him.

A hearing on the contempt proceedings was held before Justice Greenberg Monday, Nov. 17 at which time Haver was granted until 4 p. m. Friday to submit a memorandum. He scheduled his decision for this morning.

Ryan had been directed to appear November 17 to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt for refusal to answer certain questions put to him by the grand jury which is probing the payment of kickbacks to public officials in Ulster County.

Grace Doesn't Intend Return to Movies

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco says she has no intentions now of going back into the movies.

She made the comment as she arrived here Sunday with her husband, Prince Rainier, for a month-long informal visit here and in Philadelphia.

The princess, former Hollywood actress Grace Kelly, plans to see some Broadway shows, shop, and visit friends here with her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia.

No Violation

three and eight, Cahill argued. He held that numbers one, three and eight should have topped the list. Cahill also argued that number 11 was also passed over on the second list. Appointments were illegal and if they were so judged, Cahill argued all subsequent appointments were illegal.

If the appointments were illegal, then Cahill argued, the city treasurer consequently had been making illegal payments of salaries to those policemen.

On argument of the motion before Justice Schirich on October 11, Corporation Counsel Kelly argued that the sole error alleged in the petition of Cahill concerned appointments following number eight on the list. He at that time stated that number 11 had requested deferral due to prior commitments.

Head List Now: Kelly
Every other single eligible candidate on the list from number nine through 24 had been appointed, Kelly argued, and he said number one had been classified as a non-certified eligible. The argument resolved to number three and eight, Kelly argued, pointing out that they now head the new list of eligibles.

In his decision which was sent to counsel this morning, Justice Schirich pointed out the application was made pursuant to Article 78 of the Civil Practice Law for an order directing the Board of Police Commissioners of the city to cancel certain appointments to the police force and for other relief. Justice Schirich points out that Cahill, the petitioner, was third upon the list of 26 eligibles certified on May 13, 1958, following a competitive examination and that the petitioner contended the appointments made violate Rule 8 of the Rules of the Classified Civil Service prescribed by the Civil Service Commission of the State of New York.

Rule 8 prohibits the passing of more than two names from the head of an eligible list. The petitioner, Cahill, contended this was done and the respondents denied it.

Text of Memorandum
The memorandum of Justice Schirich which accompanied his dismissal of the petition states in part:

"On June 24, 1958 five appointments were made of candidates placed second, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh on the eligible list. Such appointments passed over only two candidates, namely, numbers one and three, and were in all respects lawful and proper. It appears, moreover, from the uncontested proof, that the candidate occupying position No. 1 on the list is physically incapacitated from performing the duties of a policeman at least temporarily. For the duration of such incapacity his name may be omitted from consideration (Civil Service Law, §14, subd. 4). In effect, therefore, only one name was passed over in the appointments made on June 24.

"On July 28, 1958 six additional appointments were made from the list, namely, numbers 9, 10, 12, 13, 14 and 15. At this point numbers 3, 8 and 11 appear to have been passed over. Since 11 has requested that he be passed for business reasons of his own, these appointments complied with the rule.

"Subsequent appointments made on September 10 and September 18, 1958 were all eligibles bearing numbers 16 to 26 inclusive.

"It appears, therefore, that only eligibles bearing numbers 3 and 8 have been passed. This is permitted by law.

"The petition is dismissed, without costs."

Joseph Slutsky, 76, Ellenville Hotel Operator, Heart Victim

Joseph Slutsky, 76, co-owner of the Nevele Hotel in Ellenville and the Olcott Hotel at Central Park West and 72nd Street, New York City, died of a heart attack at the Nevele early Sunday morning.

Mr. Slutsky was widely known throughout the hotel and resort world and was one of Ellenville's most respected citizens, having taken a deep interest in civic matters for many years. In 1950, Mr. Slutsky donated to Ellenville the Joseph Slutsky Community Center, a meeting and recreation hall. He was a member of the board of directors of Veterans Memorial Hospital in Ellenville and was a member of the Ulster County Hotelmen, the Sullivan County Hotel Association, the New York State Hotel Association and the American Hotel Association.

Started in 1901
A native of Russia, Mr. Slutsky and his father, Charles Slutsky, opened the Nevele as a farm which took guests in 1901. Through their progressive program the original guest house has grown to a 355 room resort with its 700 acres of grounds and has become known as one of the outstanding resorts in the east. At the time of his death he was a co-owner of the Nevele and the Olcott with his sons, Ben and Julius Slutsky. They also owned a motel at Hollywood, Florida.

Mr. Slutsky founded and was honorary president of the Hebrew Aid Society in Ellenville and had received the Merit Service Award of the United Jewish Appeal for his work in fund drives.

Funeral Today
Surviving beside his sons, are his wife, Mrs. Yetta Slutsky; a daughter, Mrs. Meyer Regenbogen; three brothers, Harry, Ben and Philip Slutsky; three sisters, Mrs. Ephraim Yaffee, Mrs. Isadore Rosenstein and Mrs. Minnie Bawer. Nine grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Joseph Slutsky Jewish Community Center, Ellenville, with Rabbi Herman Eisner of Ellenville officiating. Burial in the Hebrew Cemetery, Wawarsing.

Another Burglary Reported Here
Still tracking down clues of a series of overnight burglaries and a reported daytime store theft last week, local police today began probe of another burglary over the weekend.

A cash register with a small amount of cash was taken from Lehr's Sterling Market, 36 Sterling Street after entrance was gained through the lossing of a door, police said.

It was undetermined up until today the extent of possible other losses at the store, but it was indicated that some cigarettes and other small items might have been taken.

It was noted, however, that the place had been ransacked, and glass from the door was scattered about.

Officers Edward Leonard and George Dougherty were assigned to investigate.

Nothing further had been heard, up until today, of a 1957 Roadmaster convertible, reported taken last week from the garage of the Kingston Buick Co., 10 Main Street. It is owned by Ready Mixed Concrete, Inc., Island Dock.

Still under probe also is the theft of $550 mink stole from the Up-To-Date Company store, 330 Wall Street. It is thought that it might have been taken by one of two women, who had been trying on garments in the store Thursday afternoon.

Reported entered also late last week were the Crown Street Bus Terminal and its adjacent restaurant, where between $30 and $35 was reported taken; the New York State Veterinary College branch laboratory, 88 Prince Street, and School No. 3, Chambers Street. Nothing was reported missing at the latter two places.

Police were notified today that a .22 calibre pistol, reported stolen last week from the FitzGerald Sports Shop, 336 Clinton Avenue, had been found in a mail drop at Fair Street and Maiden Lane. It was found by a mailman on a regular tour of duty. Its reported value was $37.95.

Communists Stop Fire on Isles After 3 Weeks
TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communists shore batteries lifted their fire today after pounding the Quemoy Islands with the heaviest barrage in nearly three weeks.

The Red guns fell silent on this even-numbered, no-shelling day. The Quemoy garrison reported hundreds of Communist soldiers went back to work on coastal fortifications facing the offshore islands.

Nationalist defense headquarters said the Reds unloaded 1,975 shells on Quemoy and the smaller islands Sunday. This was the heaviest fire since Nov. 5, when the Communists laid down 5,394 rounds.

Return fire by the Nationalist garrison was described as heavy. For the first time in recent weeks, the Nationalists reported Red air activity over the offshore islands.

Local Youth Injured In Saugerties Mishap
Paul DeGraft, 15, of 31 Third Avenue, suffered a contusion of the left eye late Sunday night in a one-car mishap on Route 9W, town of Saugerties.

Trooper Richard Ryan of the Kingston state police reported that DeGraft was a passenger in a 1955 sedan operated by Helen Jones, 18, of 85 Franklin Street.

The car was proceeding north on 9W, turning left into Glasco turnpike, when the vehicle went out of control and left the road on the left side.

DeGraft refused medical attention. Time of the mishap was 10:55 p. m.

Mamie Happy Ike Can Get to Links, Vacation Is Tonic

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — It's more golf for President Eisenhower today and it's quite all right with his wife.

The First Lady gave the assurance publicly Sunday on the steps of the Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church.

As she and the vacationing President were leaving after morning services, the pastor, Dr. Charles H. Gibboney, noted the beautiful autumn weather and remarked to Mrs. Eisenhower: "This is the kind of weather that makes it hard to keep the President home and off the golf course."

"I don't want to keep him off," the First Lady replied, flashing a smile. "I want him to be there."

And right there he was just a bit later, getting in another 18 holes at the Augusta National Golf Club course.

Eisenhower looked as though his vacation is proving to be a tonic. He was ruddy after hours in the warm sun since arriving from Washington last Thursday for about a 10-day Thanksgiving holiday.

He was in a cheerful mood in remarking he has had "as nice a stretch of weather I've ever seen here" in 21 visits since he was elected in 1952.

Will Try Launching
WASHINGTON (AP)—The publication Aviation Week predicts the Air Force will attempt on Dec. 15 to launch its first Sentry satellite.

The Sentry will be designed to scan the earth during its orbiting. It will be aimed at a north-south orbit. The whole globe will rotate under the Sentry.

The launchings would be from the new missile site at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Continue Probe Of Lake Michigan Ship Sinking

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — The Coast Guard board of inquiry investigating last Tuesday's disasterous freighter sinking in Lake Michigan was back in Cleveland today, its work in Michigan apparently concluded.

From the Carl D. Bradley's only two survivors, First Mate Elmer Fleming and Watchman Frank Mays, the board got only a repetition of their originally told story of the Bradley's foundering and sinking in a storm with the loss of 33 lives.

Fleming and Mays, as witnesses in a weekend hearing here, told of hearing a thud, the Bradley's then breaking apart in her middle, and her sinking.

Previously the board had met at Rogers City, home of most of the Bradley's 35 crew members, and at the Coast Guard air base at Traverse City. The board is headed by Rear Adm. Joseph Kerrins, commander of the Ninth Coast Guard District.

Fleming and Mays were questioned at the hospital. They are expected to be released in a few days. Their condition continues good.

Both crewmen testified there was no advance warning of a disaster.

Rhode Island, Delaware and Connecticut are the smallest states in the Union.

Yule Decorations Ready for Season Lighting Friday

The community Christmas lights with the newly acquired centerpieces were strung across the streets in the main business section of Saugerties Sunday afternoon. The lights will go on Friday afternoon.

Herbert G. Lachmann, chairman of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce project headed a committee of volunteers and Chamber members who donated time the past two Sundays to prepare and hang up the lights on the permanent cables.

Fifteen strings with centerpieces and garlands were hung on the cables. Three new cables were prepared and placed across Partition and Main Streets. Two new strings were placed at the intersection of Main and Partition and another from the Keenan to the Seamon Furniture Company buildings on Partition Street.

Negotiations are underway to have two other cables and strings placed at the Market and Main Street intersection, Lachmann said.

The 15 strings support 10 bells and 14 stars.

Volunteer workers helping the Chamber members and two employees of AC Home Improvement Company, Partition Street were: John Hopf, Vincent Ip-polito, Donald Longtoe, Robert Emery, a member of Saugerties Central High School faculty, AC Home Improvement Company employees were Thomas Gilmore and Floyd Vanderbeck.

Chamber members helping the past two Sundays including Chairman Lachmann were Myron G. Banks, Chamber vice-president; Raymond C. Ruby, Franklyn P. Clum Jr., Joseph Bosco, Vincent Amrod, Arthur London.

The fund raising campaign of the Chamber to complete payment for installation of the Christmas lights and to defray the expenses of conducting the Christmas celebration for the youngsters of the community started this year. Personal contacts have been made by members with merchants in the lighted area. Industry and professional men will receive letters of solicitation asking for funds.

The annual parade heralding the Christmas season in Saugerties will be held Saturday, Dec. 6 at 11 a. m. Mrs. Joan Feldmann, social activities chairman of the Chamber will be chairman.

The parade will include one of the local drum corps and Santa Claus.

Santa Claus will stop on Partition Street and on Main Street near Market to distribute candy to the youngsters. Moira R. Altevogt, Miss Saugerties of 1959 and her attendants, Susan Harris and Judith Kaminski will assist Santa Claus.

The Chamber is also sponsoring the annual Joseph Frankel memorial free movie for youngsters of the community to be held this year December 22 at the Orpheum Theatre. The late Mr. Frankel was editor of the local newspaper for over 43 years.

Another Chamber activity during the Christmas season will be a merchants' competition for the best window displays. Awards will be presented to the three merchants whose window displays best capture the Christmas spirit.

Lachmann announced at a recent Chamber meeting that surplus new garland for Christmas decorations is available to store owners or others at cost. Lachmann may be contacted at Lachmann's Pastry Shop, Main Street.

Plan to Clear Path Of Mohawk Trail

FLORIDA, Mass. (AP)—Plans to clear and mark a mile and a half section of the centuries-old Indian path known as the Mohawk Trail, roughly paralleling the Mohawk Trail Highway, were announced today.

The Mohawk Trail Assn. and the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources announced a cooperative project to restore the trail as a path for hikers. Much of the area is in the Mohawk Trail State Forest.

The 43-mile trail, some of it still visible, connected the Connecticut and Hudson watersheds over the shortest mountain stretch between the two rivers, stretched between what are now the towns of Deerfield and Williamstown.

The first part to be cleared of brush connects the top of Forbidden Mountain with the Deerfield River.

Disputes Gerosa

Says Board Saved City $110 Million Last Nine Years

NEW YORK (AP)—A member of the Board of Education says the board has saved the city about 110 million dollars in the past eight or nine years.

Charles J. Bensley, chairman of the board's committee on sites and construction, said Sunday the savings resulted from economies in the school - construction program.

He appeared on a television program and disputed charges by Controller Lawrence E. Gerosa that the board wasted 100 million dollars since 1951.

He said the board was preparing a detailed reply "the size of a book" to Gerosa's assertions that millions had been wasted through frills, luxuries and high architects' fees.

The first part of the reply, signed by all board members and John J. Theobald, superintendent of schools, was issued Sunday night. It discussed primarily private architects' fees, new and re-used plans and changes in exterior designs and materials.

The board agreed with Gerosa that fees paid to private architects for schools were higher than in other city departments and pointed out that a city committee, set up because of the board's own complaint on this point, was working on the problem.

Exterior designs and materials have been changed at the request of the Municipal Art Commission, the board said.

Gerosa, in making his charges, said there was no fraud involved. However, the State Commission of investigation announced it would look into the situation.

Bensley said the board had saved money through lowered ceilings in classrooms, squared-off rooms, more economical classroom furniture, wall material and type of construction.

He said when the board hired architects to design new schools in preference to using old plans, it saved, not wasted, money.

Bensley termed Gerosa "the white-haired boy of certain reality interests who oppose any increase in realty taxes and the proposed 500-million-dollar bond issue to finance school construction."

He did not identify the interests.

Progress Faster

LONDON (AP) — One of Britain's leading nuclear physicists came home from Moscow today and said Soviet scientists seeking to harness the power of the hydrogen bomb are at about the same stage as the West's but moving faster.

Sir John Cockcroft, director of the British atomic energy research station at Harwell, spent a week in the Soviet Union studying thermonuclear work there.

Bus Ride Starts Lots of Trouble, No Fare Refund

NEW YORK (AP) — Emerson Cox, 27, was in jail today brooding about bus drivers, uncoordinated family finances, and the law of gravity.

His troubles started Sunday night when he dropped 30 cents in the till as he boarded a bus in the Bronx with his wife and their two small children.

After the family settled in a seat, both parents holding a baby, Cox said he discovered that his wife also had paid the fare.

At the end of the line, Cox demanded a refund from the bus driver, John Cunningham, 23. Cunningham said he tried to explain that he could not refund the money because it was already registered in the machine.

But Cox laid his 11-month-old son on the floor of the bus and took a swing at Cunningham, who promptly returned the punch.

Meanwhile, the bus began rolling slowly down a hill. About a block from the starting point, it crashed into the rear of a car waiting for a stop light to change.

The car's rear fender was damaged. Then police arrived.

Cox was held in $1,000 bail for a hearing Tuesday.

Western Powers Still Disagree On Berlin Policy

BERLIN (AP) — The Western powers were reported still unable to agree today on a policy of unified action toward the Communist challenge in Berlin.

There were many indications that the United States, Britain and France were finding it difficult to agree on a plan of action if and when Soviet Premier Khrushchev unilaterally makes a definite proposal for dismantling the four-power regime for the city.

Khrushchev declared two weeks ago that the Soviet Union was ready to pull out of the four-power setup, a leftover from the victorious Allies' cooperation in Germany, and leave the Western powers on their own in dealing with the East Germans.

Recovers From Burns, Scared All Community

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A youth responsible for a radioactivity scare here has been released from a hospital as completely recovered from radium burns on his hands.

The youth, Johnny Pierce, 19, started the community earlier this month by saying he had spilled radioactive cobalt-60 on his hands while conducting an experiment. This set off a search of the town for possible contamination.

Later, Pierce admitted he was burned while handling a radium needle he had obtained at the hospital where he works part time as an X-ray technician.

Long Island Men Held on Charges Dealing With Guns

Thruway police arrested three Long Island men Saturday afternoon on charges of illegal possession of firearms.

They are:
Robert L. Spinelli, 21, of Jackson Heights, L. I.
Charles J. Miloro, 21, Elmhurst, L. I.
Philip P. Kopec, 20, of Jackson Heights.

Three revolvers were found in the 1949 sedan they were driving. They were stopped during a routine road check.

The three men were turned over to Kingston state police for "processing," arraigned before Justice of the Peace Arthur Reilly of the town of Ulster.

Spinelli waived examination and was committed to the Ulster County jail to await action of the grand jury.

Miloro and Kopec asked for hearings and were committed to jail in lieu of $5,000 bail. Hearings were scheduled before Judge Reilly at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Eastern Second

ended a strike which started Tuesday.

The new pact is subject to ratification by local unions and the working out of supplemental local agreements. Terms roughly parallel those agreed upon between the union and the auto industry's Big Three—General Motors, Chrysler and Ford—in pattern-setting years reached earlier this year.

The UAW has strikes continuing against two big farm machinery firms, International Harvester Co. and Caterpillar Tractor Co. Wages are the chief issue in both disputes.

Operations at the big Gary, Ind., works of the U. S. Steel Corp., were curtailed by a strike Sunday of 1,400 switchmen, brakemen and yardmen of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway. Pickets were withdrawn from the Gary works shortly before midnight. Full operation was not expected until midnight tonight.

The strike by members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was termed by a union spokesman as unauthorized.

Connecticut Has

Kingston Laundry stickup of Nov. 14, 1957 which netted only $56. Three teenagers of Dorchester, Mass., were caught by the local detectives only a few hours after the local burglary. They were dealt with as youthful offenders.

Trial Delayed
Local trial of Ferro on the robbery count was delayed pending decision on a motion for inspection of grand jury minutes. He is represented by Attorney Hubert A. Richter. The Connecticut trial being a more serious one, he might face trial on that first.

$350,000 Oil Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Giant flames crackled on the waters of a creek for a mile Sunday night in a spectacular fire that caused $350,000 damage.

Little Falls Creek burst into flame after blazing oil from 12 fuel storage tanks spilled into it. Firemen, who extinguished the blaze early today, had to fight through the thick black smoke that clogged the area on the north-west edge of Washington. Two firemen were hurt slightly.

The oil company that owned the tanks took the entire loss. No residential property was damaged.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market tumbled to its worst setback in a year with trading heavy early this afternoon.

Pivotal issues dropped fractions to about three points in what Wall Street observers saw as a major market correction after a rise to one new record after another.

The market fell on a broad front with blue chip and more speculative issues taking sharp losses under strong selling pressure. Steels, motors, rails, utilities, coppers, aircrafts, chemicals, oils and rubbers were big losers.

French Voting Reveals Strength for De Gaulle

PARIS (AP) — Premier De Gaulle, without having lifted a finger in the campaign, won another strong endorsement from the French people in first-round voting Sunday for the new National Assembly.

With many candidates trying to ride De Gaulle's coattails, outright foes of the Premier made the poorest showing.

Duclos Faces Struggle
A strong rightist swing was accompanied by a Communist decline, though the anti-Gaullist Jacques Duclos faced a stiff fight in the runoff next Sunday.

The De Gaulle tide swamped such non-Communist foes as former Premier Pierre Mendes-France and Maurice Bourges-Maunoury. Both lost their Assembly seats on the first ballot.

Clearcut Trend

It boomed to second rank—after the Communists—a brand new De-Gaullist party, the Union for the New Republic (UNR) headed by Information Minister Jacques Soustelle.

This was the clearcut trend though only 41 of the 465 deputies from mainland France were elected by a majority vote over all opponents. The remainder will be chosen in runoffs next Sunday.

Saugerties Car Fire

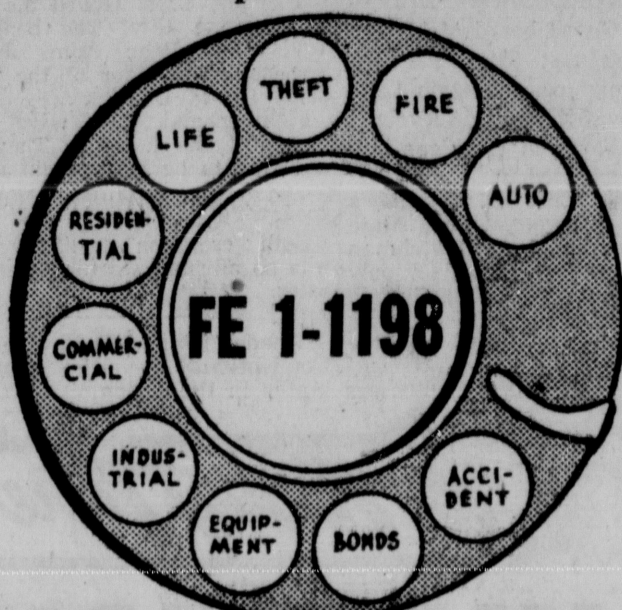

Extinguished by Police

A car stalled by fire under the hood momentarily halted traffic at the Main and Partition Street intersection of Saugerties this morning. It was extinguished by Sgt. Harold Mills of Saugerties Police Department.

The sedan of local news dealer, Ralph Ricketson issued smoke and flame from its hood as the car crossed the intersection. Observers helped Sgt. Mills push the car to a nearby curb where Mills put out the flames with an extinguisher from the patrol car. According to Sgt. Mills the fire evidently started from crossed wires. The fuel pump and radiator hose were on fire when the hood was opened. The incident happened at 11:30 a. m.

All units of Saugerties Fire Department answered the alarm. Ricketson is a Freeman dealer and operates a news store on Partition Street.

JAY CACIOPPA, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Cacioppo of Kukula Lane, town of Ulster, was a member of one of four crack 6th Bomb Wing crews who competed last month in a grueling aerial bombing test at Castle Air Force Base, Calif. Airman 1/C Cacioppo was one of a crew of B-52's, the long striking arm of the Strategic Air Command, which entered the competition. He was a member of the 39th Bomb Squadron from Walker Air Force Base, New Mexico. A total of 198 B-52's entered the competition. Young Cacioppo, a graduate of Kingston High School in 1956, was formerly employed by Empire Markets here. He enlisted in Jan. 1957.

of the new Marines were on hand to witness the graduation ceremonies.

The 12-week training schedule included drill, bayonet training, physical conditioning, parades and ceremonies, and other military subjects. Three weeks were spent on the rifle range where the recruits fired the M-1 rifle and received instruction in basic Marine infantry weapons. This recruit training prepares young Leathernecks for further specialized infantry training at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

How to Count Thirteen Cards

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

At first glance it would appear that South's six no-trump contract is doomed to defeat since all the clubs are in back of him, but Cy Strouse of Brownsville, Tex., made it at the Amarillo tournament.

East's ace of spades was played on dummy's king at trick one and the suit returned. Cy won with the dummy's queen and cashed the jack right away. East discarded a diamond while Cy was letting two clubs go.

Nok Cy ran off seven tricks in the red suits and West had to discard two clubs and a spade. Cy let one spade go from dummy and now announced that all three clubs were good since each opponent was holding exactly two clubs.

How did Cy know this? It was a simple matter of counting to 13 several times. West had started with five spades (East had shown out on the third lead). He also had started with exactly two hearts and two diamonds so that his original club holding had been exactly four cards. West had discarded two Cy could also check the East hand. East had started with two spades, five diamonds and four hearts which left exactly two clubs as the rest of his hand. Easy?

Two Navy Seamen Die in Collision Off Cuba Friday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Navy reports that two seamen were killed off Cuba Friday in a collision of two planes.

The victims were Richard Lee Jadwin, Wellsville, N. Y., aviation ordnanceman and William K. Hawthorne of Clarendon, Pa., aviation electronics technician.

Three other persons, including both pilots, parachuted to safety. The Navy said Sunday Hawthorne and Jadwin were riding in a small, twin-engine plane that collided with an F6F fighter off the south coast of Cuba.

The Navy said a search had been made for the bodies of Hawthorne and Jadwin but they had not been found.

Jadwin's widow lives at 57 Franklin St., Wellsville.

Bendix Workers Returning After Contract Settled

DETROIT (AP)—Strikers at the Bendix Aviation Corp. began returning to work at some plants today after a national contract settlement covering 13,500 workers.

The United Auto Workers and Bendix, manufacturer of plane and missile parts, reached a three-year agreement Sunday patterned after that of the auto industry. Local issues remained unsolved at some of the eight affected plants across the nation, however. Strikes at these presumably would continue.

Full settlements were in effect for 4,000 workers at Teterboro, N. J., and another 600 at Detroit and Madison Heights, a Detroit suburb.

Other Bendix plants are at Los Angeles, South Bend, Ind., North

Hollywood, Calif., St. Joseph, Mich., and Elmira, N. Y.

The new Bendix-UAW national agreement is modeled after the union's three-year agreements in the auto industry with Ford, Chrysler and General Motors.

Included are an annual improvement-factor pay increase of six cents an hour and an additional eight cents hourly for skilled workers. The average pay rates at Bendix were not stated. The union said insurance, pension and layoff pay provisions also were improved. Grievance procedures were adjusted.

Find Body in Car

KINGDOM CITY, Mo. (AP)—Coroner Harry Stewart reports that papers on the body of a man found in a junked car identify him as William Neer, 46, of Birmingham, N. Y.

The body was discovered Sunday.

Stewart said the man apparently died of natural causes last Tuesday night. He had asked at a filling station for a place to sleep.

Year-Long Observance

NEW YORK (AP)—American reform Judaism begins a year-long observance of its 85th anniversary with a banquet here Nov. 8 for 1,000 synagogue leaders from across the nation. The movement, now organized into the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, grew out of efforts to give Judaism more impact and vitality on the modern scene.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription!

Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N. Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms. This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe that now it can be sold without prescription—in tiny tablets called Primatene®.

Primatene opens bronchial tubes, loosens mucous congestion, relieves taut nervous tension. All this without taking painful injections.

These secretis—Primatene combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose.

So look forward to sleep at night and freedom from asthma spasms... get Primatene, at any drugstore. Only 98¢—money-back-guarantee. © 1958, Whitehall Pharmaceutical Company

May Need Augusta Rest

Ike Seen Facing Difficult Home and Foreign Problems

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has been getting some rest at Augusta, Ga. He may need it to see him through this next year.

It could be a nerve-grawling time.

Just a couple of things come to mind: the Russians, government spending and maybe Vice President Nixon.

Berlin Question
Right now Eisenhower doesn't

CHARLES W. HUMMELL
CHIROPRACTOR
81 ELMENDORF STREET
KINGSTON
Tel. FE 8-4871

know what he faces at Berlin, where the Russians and East German Communists are maneuvering to get the Western Allies out of the city.

Eisenhower announced Nov. 5, the day after the Republicans' election disaster, that his 1959 goal is less spending.

But if the Communists impose a land blockade against supplies for West Berlin, the Allies may have to try the airlift again, boosting the cost of the American government.

As part of his economy drive, Eisenhower wants to reduce the size of the armed forces. But, because of the unpredictability of events around Berlin, he cannot at this moment know what armed forces he will need in 1959.

Economy in government—some where and of some kind—seems in order. This year, with revenue reduced by the recession, the government faces a deficit of around 12 billion dollars.

Next year, if the economy booms, revenue will increase but Eisenhower will still have the responsibility of trying to keep spending down, close to or below revenue.

He is anxious, of course, to see his Republican party in a favorable light when it meets the voters again in 1960. But he will be playing into the Democrats' hands if he tries to cut programs that the people want.

If Eisenhower plays it too conservatively and the Democratic-run Congress broadens what he offers, the Democrats will take credit for the result, provided the result is popular.

If he plays it too cautiously, it would not be surprising to see Vice President Nixon, break with him: not in an explosive rupture but by taking a less conservative position than the President's.

For six years—except during the election campaigns—Nixon, by the very nature of his job, had to live within the shadow of Eisenhower.

Somehow Nixon has to establish himself in the voters' minds—if he has any presidential hopes for 1960—as an individual identity standing for something that has wide, popular appeal.

An overly conservative Eisenhower will almost force Nixon to choose a different road, out in the open. A split between the two men would not make Eisenhower's remaining White House days any easier.

Teachers Group Delegates Talk Problems Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The House of Delegates of the New York State Teachers Assn. tackles problems in the field of education today at its annual meeting.

The House of Delegates, a representative assembly drawn from 12 zones across the state is the policy-making body for the 73,000 members of the association, one of the oldest teachers' organizations in America.

Some 1,165 members from outside New York City will deal with 31 resolutions recommended by committee, elect new officers and act on amendments to the association's constitution as well as on other committee reports.

One resolution is directed at obtaining independence in budget-making for boards of education in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and Yonkers, in these cities of more than 125,000 population, as well as in New York City, school budgets must be submitted to municipal governments for approval.

Ask Approval Action
The association wants the boards of education to be empowered with approval action. Another resolution reiterates demands for teacher salary increases, asking a $6,000 minimum for starting teachers and a $13,000 minimum for experienced teachers. Included in the resolution is the proposed establishment of a pay scheduled providing 10 annual increases of $300 each from any starting minimum. Other resolutions endorse efforts for higher salaries in units of the State University, improved retirement benefits, minimum annual sick leave of 10 days with full pay, and state grants for students attending classes in rented facilities outside their home school districts.

The oldest synagogue in the U. S. is the Touro Synagogue at Newport, R. I., built in 1763.

Crash Is Fatal To Four Students In Potsdam Area

POTSDAM, N. Y. (AP)—Four college students were killed in a roaring smashup on a highway near here Sunday.

Their car and one driven by a high-school boy collided head-on. The high school student was injured critically.

The four youths killed were students at St. Lawrence University. Three were varsity football players.

The victims were: John R. Pulice, 21, of Peekskill; Payne A. Thomas, 18, of Westport, Conn., and William J. Mastriani, 19, of Schenectady, all members of St. Lawrence's football varsity, and Richard F. Ferguson, 19, of Amsterdam.

Anthony L. Durham, 18, of Potsdam, a high-school senior, was in critical condition at Potsdam Hospital.

Pulice was a senior at St. Lawrence. The other college students were sophomores.

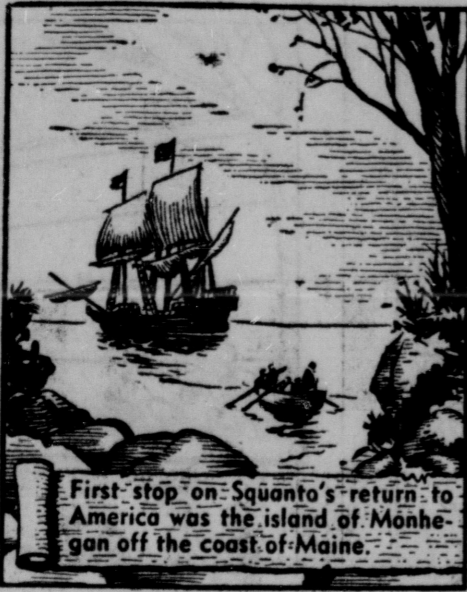

The accident occurred at 12:15 a. m. on a slight curve on Route 56, three miles south of this Northern New York village.

St. Lawrence County sheriff's deputies said the college students were riding in a car driven by Thomas.

The group apparently was returning to the St. Lawrence campus at Canton, about 11 miles from Potsdam, the officers reported.

The deputies said they had not determined where the college group had been or what caused the accident.

SQUANTO'S THANKSGIVING

First stop on Squanto's return to America was the island of Monhegan off the coast of Maine.

There they picked up Samoset, a chief of the Wampanoag. They then sailed for Plymouth Harbor, arriving there about six months before the Pilgrims.

This was the territory of Squanto's tribe, the Patuxet. But the wandering more Squanto went to live with the brave found only horror in his village. Wampanoag, a neighboring tribe, but a plague had killed his family and all he was restless and unhappy.

U. S. Dollars, Anglo-Contact Help: Atlee

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Clement Atlee says American money and British diplomacy are working together to halt the spread of communism.

The former prime minister of Great Britain told a lecture audience Saturday at Cornell University that the West must offer "active and sympathetic partnership" to nations it would rally to fight communism.

Atlee said the United States had the money for aid programs while Britain had a greater tradition of contact with European countries.

That combination, he suggested, strengthens the U. S.-British alliance against the spread of communism.

Gov. Harriman introduced Atlee.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—This contest loving nation is spending some 500 million dollars in 1958 staging the giveaway form of sales promotion.

Winners will split prizes valued at 40 million dollars. More than 600 firms will tally up the results to see just how much sales have been boosted.

Contests Up 10 PC

The number of contests this year is estimated at 10 per cent more than last year. Part of the gain is credited to the step up in sales competition because of the receding recession. Also, cash prizes have more lure in poor times than in good.

But part of the increase is believed due to the fact that consumers like contests and expect them. And they especially like contests if the prize is unusual or beyond their means.

Boost for Sales

Chief among reasons for launching a contest are: 1. sales can be increased by asking contestants to turn in box tops, labels or wrappers; 2. if the prize has glamor and excites consumers the manufacturer can get dealers or stores to put up mass displays of the product.

Display is becoming more important in an age of supermarkets and self-service devices. Getting goods displayed is a competitive field all in itself, quite aside from product competition.

Contests are divided among those appealing to consumers and those aimed at spurring activities of salesmen or dealers.

Some Profit Winners Only

Some profit only the winners who may be limited to a few contestants — like the perennial Miss Rhinegold voting bees — without offering anything to those who do the voting.

Others appeal to thousands of contestants aiming at many prizes like a reported 10 million who merely sent in their names to Lever Bros. Sweepstakes to be drawn out of a hat for cash prizes.

Narcotics Charge

NEWTON, N. J. (AP) — Miss Mildred Ogden, 43, of Middletown, N. Y., night supervisor of nurses at Yonkers (N. Y.) General Hospital, was fined $250 Friday on a charge of obtaining narcotics through forged prescriptions. She pleaded no defense to a 25-count indictment. Sussex County Judge Vito A. Concilio fined her $250 and placed her on probation for one year.

Name Change

NEW YORK (AP) — Shakespeare asked what's in a name — and now the Shakespeares are going to find out.

The acting group, one of the most consistently successful off-Broadway theatrical troupes for five years, is changing title and is hereafter to be known as the Players Theatre.

The switch signals reaction to some criticism that the previous name was a bit bulky, also prefaces a widening of the company's repertoire.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Puppets, so popular in the early years of television, are much in evidence on the home screen this season.

Next Sunday, when "Art Carney Meets Peter and the Wolf" in an hour special on ABC-TV (5 p.m., EST), the Baird puppets will make up the complete cast except for Carney. Perry Como has been employing Kukla, Fran and Ollie on his NBC-TV program. Pat Boone is presenting Shari Lewis and her puppets on his ABC-TV show.

Good for Small Budget

Miss Lewis, who conducts a popular morning local program on NBC-TV featuring a variety of puppet characters, was saying the other day that "puppets don't eat much." She meant, of course, that they offer a good show for a relatively small budget.

An interesting puppet, she explained, "is something unlikely existing in a human way." Furthermore, she theorizes that we're living in an age beguiled by the miniature. Smaller cars and smaller dogs, for example, are becoming increasingly popular. So isn't it possible that puppets, those miniature humans, are in a trend of popular interest?

Puppet Amuses All

Miss Lewis pointed out another interesting thing about a puppet: He (or she) can get away with saying and doing things on television that a human cannot. It's banal, for instance, when a man swoons upon being introduced to a pretty girl, but a puppet can swoon and nearly everybody is amused.

In her puppet shows Miss Lewis says she never strives for gags, "but if it's true humor we do it. There's never any pie or seltzer in the face. I try to bring vigor but not violence to a show. The conflicts are of emotion rather than physical."

Sixty per cent of the wheat and 40 per cent of the cattle of the United States are produced in the 10 Great Plains states.

Flat Tire Saves

Men From Fumes

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Bad luck turned out to be good luck for nine men riding in a panel truck Sunday.

The bad luck, a flat tire, caused the driver, John Egan of Buffalo, to stop the truck at a service station. When he opened the rear door, four of the men were unconscious.

Firemen said, "it could have been very bad," if the men had stayed in the closed, fume-filled interior much longer. They said the fumes apparently seeped in from the exhaust system.

The other five men were groggy, but revived quickly in the fresh air. They said they thought the others were dozing.

Egan was driving the men, all from Buffalo, to Rochester to distribute advertising material. He works for the Buffalo Distributing Co.

The four who were treated at a hospital and discharged are Warren Spring, 44; Joseph Krause, 45; Edward Bruan, 67; and Allen Davis, 63.

Bachelor—A bachelor is a man who gives in when he is wrong; a married man gives in when he is right. A bachelor either lacks the sand to propose or the rocks to marry. He is the only man who never, lied to his wife. The difference between a married man and a bachelor is that when a bachelor walks the floor with a baby at midnight he is dancing. A young skeptic went about trying to disprove all the commonly accepted beliefs. He made his first great demonstration when he gave the lie to the statement that "a watched pot never boils." He actually watched a pot until it did boil. It was more difficult, but just as worthwhile, to prove that sometimes a rolling stone does gather moss. He kept on, however, until he amassed considerable data on the subject of popular misinformation.
Then he heard a statement that "an Indian never forgets," and set out to disprove it. He went out to the Crow Reservation in Montana and became acquainted with a young buck. He asked him if he liked eggs.
Indian—Yes.
Twenty-five years later the skeptic returned to the reservation and met his Indian friend. Raising his hand in salutation, he said to the redskin.
Young skeptic—How!
Indian—Fried.
There was a raid on a "bookie joint" in Boston. Among the indignant prisoners was a locksmith, who said: "I'm innocent. I tell you. I was making a bolt for the door when the cops broke in."

Food Fads and Nutritional Nonsense

This week, when you're planning Thanksgiving Dinner, seems a good time to talk about food. However you may diet the rest of the year, you plan to eat heartily on Thursday.

Nutrition experts certainly won't object to that turkey dinner. Roast turkey, vegetables, sweet and white potatoes, salad, pumpkin pie—they're all health foods. The meal may be a little higher in calories than your everyday meals, but you can walk a few of those off after dinner.

Your doctor will tell you that a meal like that is much better for you than some of the nutritional nonsense making the rounds these days. In fact, the medical profession as a whole is so concerned about the useless "health" foods, pills, and diets being promoted these days, that the American Medical Association is embarking on an educational campaign warning the public about the dangers of food fads. The traditional "three squares," properly planned, contain all the food elements needed by the normal human being. If you need supplementary vitamins and minerals for some special reason, your doctor will tell you.

Of course, food supplements usually do no harm—as long as you're getting a balanced diet otherwise. The great danger lies in falling for claims that these products will prevent or cure disease. Some people not only waste their money, but endanger their health by experimenting with so-called health foods when they are really ill.

Never attempt to treat any symptom of illness on the advice of anyone but your family doctor. This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by: The Ulster County TB and Health Association—74 John Street, Kingston.

Independent Union Council Calls Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Executive officers of the National Independent Union Council will meet here tomorrow to discuss independent unionism in the New York area.

The meeting was called in the wake of the slaying in Chester, N. Y., of an organizer for a union that claimed affiliation with the NIUC. The call for the meeting did not mention that incident, however.

The organizer, an ex-convict, was slain by the owner of a factory involved in a labor dispute. The owner says it was self-defense.

Don Mahon, executive secretary of the NIUC, reiterated Saturday that the union in the Chester incident never had been admitted to membership in the NIUC.

Post-Mortem

EL RENO, Okla. (AP) — George Wint, superintendent of the state game farm here, found a dead quail and investigated to see what was the cause of the death. He found the quail had stuffed itself with bright red, white and blue beads of the type used for Indian moccasins.

Abrams Says He Will Not Resign Commission Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles Abrams says he has no intention of tendering his resignation as chairman of the State Commission against Discrimination to Gov.-Elect Nelson Rockefeller. Abrams said Sunday he does not consider his post political and plans to stay on until the expiration of his term in June, 1960.

Abrams, a vice-chairman of the Liberal Party, was appointed by Gov. Harriman, a Democrat. He said he had had "many pressures" to return to his work as a housing consultant, teacher and writer, but "I wouldn't like to leave undone some of the things that we have started in New York State."

Missile Engineer Held in Holdup

LONGMEADOW, Mass. (AP) — A graduate engineer employed in the missiles and ordnance division of General Electric Co. at Pittsfield was in police custody today after a liquor store holdup Saturday night. Police Chief George Yarsley said William E. Hardy, 23, of Pittsfield, wounded twice in the right arm by bullets from the proprietor's gun, will face a charge of attempted armed robbery. Police declined to discuss a motive for the holdup. Hardy's landlady, Mrs. Rose Corami, said she evicted Hardy, his Filipino wife and their 3-month-old daughter last month as undesirable tenants. She said they argued and entertained loudly. The wife and baby left Wednesday to return to the Philippines. A full-grown bull giraffe will measure as much as 19 feet in height.

"My Insurance Is With Roland Augustine..."

... and for good reason. Since starting my business in 1953, I've had several insurance men handle our policies, not entirely to my satisfaction. Mr. Augustine was retained in 1955 and has had our business ever since. His conscientious work has on numerous occasions, produced immediate results in my company's favor. I cannot endorse Roland Augustine too highly!"

Laura Losee,* dealer, for the popular Volkswagen automobile and bus in this area has made a frank statement with regard to insurance. As a progressive business woman, she can't afford any shortcomings in her insurance coverage. She must be sure of complete protection to cover any eventuality. Contentment, a Jewel

By FRANK TRIPP

"The melancholy days are come, the saddest of the year—" Why melancholy? What more strengthens faith in immortality than to see nature go to sleep and know that it will awaken in new grandeur?

The poet's "wailing winds and naked woods" do not bring sad days to those who find contentment in home, friends, work and reality.

Winter to them is but an interlude of rest, to rejuvenate the beauty that will follow. They find peace in the faith that it is symbolic of their lives and the hereafter.

Contentment can be acquired, developed and enjoyed by any determined normal person. Discontent is only a cluttered state of mind, refusal to accept one's blessings and surroundings; frequently rejection of one's kin and home. The everlasting desire of some people to be where they are not.

THE HAPPIEST, most contented people seldom leave their native heath, some never have. One old fellow has told me a dozen times about the single journey of his long, contented life. He went to the Chicago World's Fair—the early one back in 1893.

When I meet him after returning from a trip, he will ask if I was in Chicago. Then he'll be off: "I was in Chicago once" and in great detail he'll go over it again, missing nothing and always ending in chuckles as he whispers, "and I saw the hoochie-coochie too."

Here, of course, is the extreme example of contentment, yet countless other people who travel much have learned to bring the joys and the excitement of their travels back home with them to cheer their lives forever. Home alone is their castle of contentment and peace.

It is those who can't do this who fret themselves into ulcers from eternal effort to go places and do things for no other reason than to be away from home.

MY CONTENTED friend has lived 65 years of enjoyment of one trip to Chicago. His description of the Ferris Wheel still is as vivid as if he saw it as a new invention yesterday. Airplanes fly over his house, speeding cars roar past his door, but he doesn't want to go anywhere. Because he went to Chicago once.

Everybody can't be like that. Still everybody can do something about contentment—and without aid of a psychiatrist.

The most uneasy, discontented people are those who find little pleasure in the place where they are. Distant fields always look greener to them, but when they get there they find all of the weeds and cockle of the pasture that they left.

The folks who can't go places develop contentment and peace in the scenes that are about them. They learn that other people travel far to enjoy that which to them is commonplace.

WHEREVER one goes he'll find people who wish they were where he came from. And learn that contentment comes from within one's soul, whatever his surroundings.

For true contentment is a placid state of mind; peace that anyone can learn to enjoy any comfortable place that he happens to be.

What better way to cast discontent out of our lives than to bring our memories back home to be enjoyed forever?

A single trip to Chicago did that for one old man.

Minds, too,
need cultivating

Nourish the mind, and the harvest can be bountiful beyond all measure.

Our nation, up to now, has been richly rewarded by the quality of thought nourished in our colleges and universities. The kind of learning developed there has made possible our American way of life.

Today these colleges are facing a serious crisis. Low salaries are driving too many gifted teachers into other fields. Many classrooms are seriously overcrowded. And by 1967 enrollments are expected to double!

Our institutions of higher learning are doing their best to meet these challenges. But they need help. Help the college of your choice now, and help perpetuate the American way of life.

If you want to know more about what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

AMONG FRIENDS—One Tom Turkey who's pretty sure to be around to enjoy the day after Thanksgiving is this one showing off his feathers to children at the McKinley School in Casper, Wyo. When many of the youngsters expressed a desire to view a real live turkey, the teacher Lois Rissler obtained Tom, a personal pet on the Garnett ranch near Casper. Tom, naturally, was quite willing to make the trip, as long as it was to a school and not a poultry shop.

Pope John 77
Tuesday; May Be Too Busy to Know

By JAMES M. LONG

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII is 77 Tuesday — and may have to be reminded it's his birthday, Vatican aides say.

He has been too busy in his first month as pontiff to make any personal plans for the day. He may, at the last minute, call in one or two friends for a quiet meal.

His three brothers and one sister, last of a family of 12 children, will not be here. They, and hundreds of townsmen from his native village of Sotto Il Monte and his province of Bergamo, are coming down by special train Dec. 6, instead, to give him a golden crown.

John XXIII was older, at the time of his election Oct. 28, than any other newly elected pope since Clement XII in 1730. Clement was 78 when he became pontiff.

But with an energy that belies his years, sturdy Pope John has held to a work schedule that allows only six hours sleep a night, and already has set several precedents.

A week ago he called a consistory for Dec. 15 to create 25 new cardinals and increase the size of the Sacred College to 75. It had been fixed at 70 for nearly four centuries.

He left his tiny vatican state last Friday to drive to Castel Gandolfo for a private visit to the papal summer palace. Sunday he drove through the streets of Rome again, this time in formal procession, to take possession of the Basilica of St. John Lateran, his see as Bishop of Rome. Next Thursday he will drive through Rome to inaugurate the academic year at the Lateran Athenium, where he himself once studied.

Pope John's father was a north Italian sharecropper.

Leaves From Boyle's
Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Don't raise your daughter to be a pretty milkmaid.

If she's really pretty and can act, she can do much better as a television commercial actress, one of the girls who demonstrate everything from shampoos to refrigerators on the video screen.

This is the newest and most competitive of the glamour girl industries and one of the best paying.

$35,000 a Year Possible

"A good magazine model can make $10,000 to $15,000 a year," said Candy Jones, "but a top TV commercial actress now can earn $25,000 to $35,000 a year and up."

Candy, born Jessie Wilcox in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., is one of a comparative handful of ex-models who went on to carve a big niche in the business world.

A slender and sprightly blonde with "Air Force blue" eyes, she came here in 1941 looking for a modeling job. She applied to Harry Conover, and his first verdict was she "wouldn't do."

Wouldn't Do? Does
But he did change her name from Jessie Wilcox to Candy Jones. Her first week Candy earned $105, "a big figure in those days." She went on to become a top model, a Broadway performer, and finally Conover married this girl who "wouldn't do."

Today Miss Jones, still lovely and in her thirties, runs the million-dollar-a-year Conover Television Agency, directs the placements, and listens to the hopes and heartaches of a stable of 75 beautiful TV commercial actresses.

"There are only about 500 active in the field here in New York, compared to perhaps 1,500 photographic models," she said.

Few Match Record

As a photographic model herself Candy in 1945 became perhaps the first to rate a fee of $30 a hour, a figure often eclipsed in the inflationary years since.

But few, if any, television commercial actresses have matched a record she set not too long ago. "I did six TV soap testimonial films in a single day," she recalled, "and the final pay, counting residuals, came to $24,000."

But how long do models last? Isn't their career short-lived?

"Well, one of our steadiest money makers has been with us 14 years and earned at least $250,000 in that time," said Candy. "She might do $35,000 this year. She is very conservative. She rides the bus instead of the subway. She sits knitting in our office in between assignments. She brings her own lunch from the cafeteria in a paper bag.

"Her name is Lorna Gillam, she has horn-rimmed glasses, and she wears a cloth coat instead of a fur one."

"How old is this biddy?" I asked.

"Seventeen," said Candy. "She started work at three."

Community Concerts Association Elects New Treasurer Here

Oscar J. Lawatsch was elected treasurer of the Community Concert Association Sunday afternoon at a meeting of the board of directors at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Mr. Lawatsch was chosen to complete the term left vacant by the death of Stanton A. Warren.

Final arrangements also were made for the presentation of the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington, D. C., Saturday night, December 6, at the Community Theatre, Broadway. The symphony will mark the opening of the three concert series.

Special consideration was given to the request of the orchestra management to have a stage devoid of all draperies in order to provide a hard back wall surface for the best acoustical effects.

Howard Mitchell, who has been credited with building the National Symphony as a musical organization until, today, it ranks among the top few in the nation, will conduct the Kingston concert. The orchestra is appearing at Carnegie Hall in New York this week.

Resolutions were adopted on the deaths of both Mr. Warren who served as treasurer for two seasons; and Miss Emily Rice who had served for many years on the board of directors. The resignation of Mrs. Henry L. Bibby as an active member of the board was accepted with regret.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the board when officers will be elected and artists considered for the following season, Sunday, January 11.

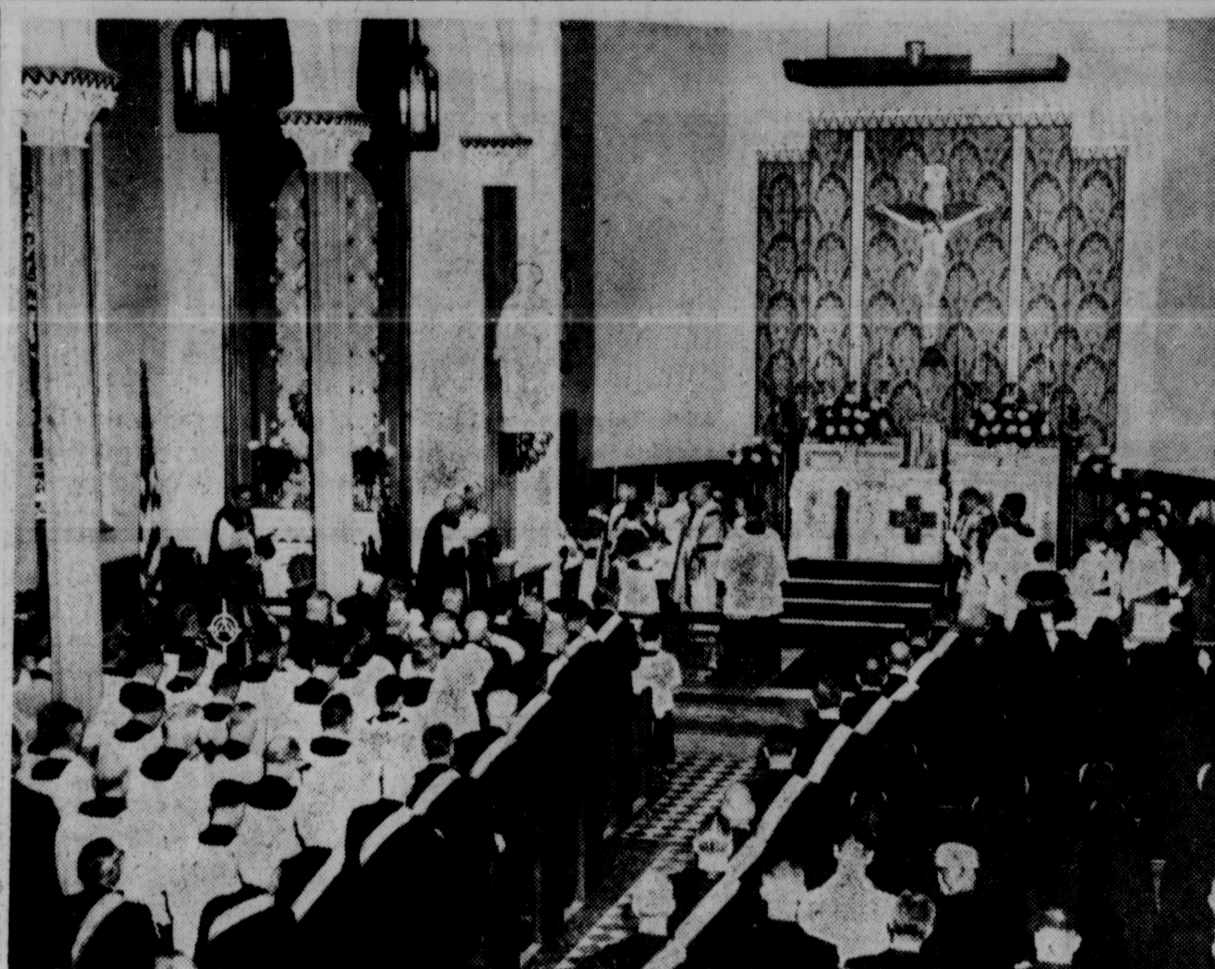

Dutch Bazaar Is Tremendous Success

The Ladies Aid Society of the Hurley Dutch Reformed Church, have reported that their Dutch Christmas Bazaar held November 15 was a tremendous success. A record attendance was noted.

Mrs. Jack Gill, general chairman, told The Freeman it was gratifying to see everything sold but more so to see how the home baked foods and handmade Christmas gifts were appreciated.

Children, as well as adults, enjoyed the gala event. Special interest for the youngsters was a huge wooden shoe which served as a fish pond.

Mrs. Gill extended her thanks to the committee members and to The Freeman.

Home Recordings

Perhaps your family doesn't sound exactly like a heavenly choir, but while the Christmas spirit imbues all with "Good Will Towards Men" it'd be wonderful to make a recording of the family to keep and listen to for years to come?

By following a few basic tips, home recording can be easy and very entertaining. And an article in the current issue of The American Home Magazine offers just the right information for home-bred compositions and combinations.

Of first importance is the recording room. The perfect specifications should measure 20 feet by 20 feet with a 10-20 foot ceiling of acoustical tile. But any room can be converted into a sound studio by drawing the drapes, blanketing the door openings and by using the ideal floor muffer of wall-to-wall carpeting.

Advantageous placement of the microphone will achieve the most effective results. To record a piano, suspend the mike underneath it. To record brass instruments, the mike should be set so the tones sweep across it rather than at it. The vocalist or vocal group should have a separate mike. The instruments with high sound pressure are balanced with low pressure instruments by the mixing board, a dial control device with meters that show sound level from each mike.

And now, music, Maestro, please!

Household Tools

All household tools work more efficiently if they are kept in good repair. This is no less true of tools that your husband uses in his basement workshop . . . and he should be interested in these simple suggestions passed along to us.

Wood and metal files must be kept scrupulously clean. You can do this easily with a flat brush with short, stiff bristles. Just stroke the brush across the file grooves to remove residue after each filing job.

Here's a trick to prevent the teeth of your hand saws from becoming dull and bent. Cut a piece of rubber tubing the same length of the saw blade and split it down the side with a knife. Then slip tubing over the saw teeth. This is an excellent precautionary measure to take whether or not you have a wall rack for saws in the workshop.

Pliers will grip better if you sharpen the teeth from time to time with a slim taper file. Work the file back and forth two or three times in each valley between the teeth. When you have finished filing, clean the teeth with a stiff wire brush.

To sharpen a gimlet, bore a little hole about three-fourths of an inch deep into a hardwood block. Fill this hole with a flour abrasive and several drops of oil. Then re-insert the gimlet and bore the hole another one-half inch deep. Repeat with fresh abrasive and oil. Finish by doing the same operation in softwood without oil.

Curried Dishes

A leading importing and exporting firm has made available to housewives, free of charge, a new booklet on finer imported condiments and curry dish recipes. With the cold weather here, it seems that more and more housewives are interested in these curry dishes.

Included in the booklet are recipes for curried spaghetti, curried eggs, sardines, sausages, vegetables, chicken and fruits. There are also some wonderful Dutch and Indian recipes included.

If you would like to have one of these booklets, just send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

INTRODUCTIONS IN PUBLIC PLACES

Dear Mrs. Post: Not long ago I went to the theater with my daughter-in-law. During intermission she chatted with several people she knew who sat nearby, but did not introduce me to them. I felt very uncomfortable sitting there with nothing to do but listen to their talk. I thought she should have introduced me and mentioned it afterward to her. She seemed surprised and quoted you as saying not to introduce in public places.

Answer: It is true that introductions should not be made in public needlessly. But in a situation where the stranger is drawn into the conversation for more than a moment, she certainly should be introduced. This would have been especially true in your case if your daughter-in-law's friends sat directly in front or behind you so that you were as near to them as she. If they were over on her side and out of reach of you, then the omission would be understandable.

Christmas Cards and the Bereaved

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother died three months ago and I would like to know if it would be proper for members of my family to send Christmas cards this year. We stand divided on this issue. Some think it would be all right and others think it would be shocking. Also, is it proper for others to send Christmas greetings to a bereaved family?

Answer: Restrained cards that emphasize the religious side of Christmas would be proper for members of your family to send this year, and proper for anyone to send to a bereaved family.

Burning Hot Food

Dear Mrs. Post: At the table when a bite of food is taken into the mouth that unexpectedly turns out to be burning hot, isn't it plain common sense to drop it immediately from mouth to plate?

Answer: Indeed it is common sense to remedy the situation as quickly as possible. But there is certainly no excuse for being offensive about it when you can take a swallow of water immediately.

Is it good manners to break crackers into soup? How should baked potato be eaten? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, answers to these questions are included in leaflet E-16, "Table Rules of Importance." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. 18th Child for Couple DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Mervin Ramer, 42, told her husband when they got married that she wanted two dozen children.

Saturday her 18th child, a 7-pound, 14-ounce boy, was born at St. Paul's Hospital.

Saute finely diced celery, onion and apples in butter, after sprinkling with curry powder; add to creamed shrimp.

MARRIED 51 YEARS TODAY — Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rua of East Kingston, who were feted at a party on Sunday at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rua, Flatbush Road, are observing their 51st wedding anniversary today. They were married at St. Colman's Church, East Kingston on November 24, 1907. The Ruas have eight children: James Rua, Jervis Street; Mrs. Michael Tiano, Flatbush Road; Peter Rua, Albany Avenue Extension; Anthony Rua, Hicksville, L. I.; Mrs. Orlando Esposito, Lindsley Avenue; Mrs. Vincent Legrenzi, Garfield, N. J.; Mrs. Henry Carpio, Teaneck, N. J.; and Frank Rua of Flatbush Road. They also have 20 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mr. Rua is employed by C. J. Gross of this city. (Freeman photo)

MRS. ROBERT V. PROSSER JR. (Pennington photo)

Miss Shirley May Wiegert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Wiegert of 18 Livingston Street, wed Robert Veron Prosser Jr., son of Mrs. Margaret Prosser of 104 Hasbrouck Avenue, at a double ring ceremony held Sunday, Nov. 16 at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick. Howard Houghtaling was organist and John Amarello, soloist.

The church was decorated with white and pink pompons. The pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white gown of French lace designed with a fitted bodice, illusion neckline with lace mandarin collar, long sleeves ending in points over the wrists and a bouffant skirt of lace over tulle and bridal satin. The skirt was trimmed with iridescent sequins in clusters and ended in a circular court train. Her scalloped, three tier veil of silk illusion was studded with tiny seed pearls and gathered to a crown of iridescent sequins and white seed pearls. She carried a waterfall cascade bouquet of white pompons.

Mrs. Edward Reilly Sr., cousin of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore an orchid tulle gown fashioned with a shirred bodice, hooped bouffant skirt trimmed with ruching marquise. Her hat was a small crown with tiny illusion veil. She carried a waterfall cascade of yellow pompons.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue satin dress with black accessories. She also wore a corsage of yellow pompons. Mother of the bridegroom wore a powder blue satin dress with black accessories. A corsage of yellow pompons completed her outfit.

Edward Reilly Sr., cousin of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were George Wiegert and William Brizee, the bride's uncles.

A reception was held at The Yacht Club. The bride was graduated from Kingston High School with the class of 1956. She is employed by Maurice Goldberg. Her husband, who served two years with the U. S. Army, is employed by Volunteers of America.

For her wedding trip to New York, the bride wore a beige sheath dress with brown accessories and a corsage of white pompons.

The couple will make their home at 18 Livingston Street when they return.

League of Women Voters Authorizes Two Area Groups; Organizing Begins Soon

The board of directors of the League of Women Voters of New York has authorized the organization of two leagues in this area.

The decision to proceed in organizing both Kingston and Woodstock Leagues was made at a meeting of the state board Thursday and Friday in New York City, according to Mrs. John Fitch of Hamilton, state organizations chairman.

In charge of supervising formation of the leagues will be Mrs. William Denslow, field organization secretary for the State League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Bernard Slavitt, Westchester area chairman.

Mrs. Harry Lawson is in charge of the Woodstock group, while Mrs. Robert S. Yallum is temporary chairman of the Kingston unit. Tentative plans include the holding of a pre-organizational meeting here Sept. 25. Also participating in the session was Mrs. Harry Cornwell, president of the New Paltz League, who has served as advisor to the local group during preliminary planning.

Following the meeting, a series of coffee-hour gatherings was held to explore the possibilities of forming a League here and to outline the organization's program and policies to interested women. Members of the New Paltz League were present at these sessions to answer questions and describe the league's activities.

The league is a non-partisan organization which aims to promote political responsibility through the informed and active participation of citizens in their government. The group functions through small discussion units, which study governmental issues pertaining to the local community, as well as state and national questions. Once a topic has been objectively studied and a position taken, the league works through local media of communication to inform the public of its findings.

The organization now numbering 128,000 members in more than 1,000 local leagues, takes action in relation to issues only; it neither supports nor opposes candidates or parties. Members are encouraged to work actively through the political party of their choice; however, board members are asked to refrain from political activity during their terms of service so that the league's non-partisanship can be maintained.

Women interested in more information on the league may contact Mrs. Yallum or Mrs. Lawson.

Buster Ferraro Rolls 733 In TV Match at Schenectady

Slams 290 Solo 186 and 257 for Second Victory

Buster Ferraro smashed a rousing 733 series Sunday to register his second consecutive triumph on the TV bowl-ing show on Channel 6 from Schenectady.

While a tremendous local audience watched, Ferraro put together games of 186, 257 and 290 to top Schenectady's Jack Scaccia by 104 pins. Scaccia tripled 629 on games of 201, 179 and 249.

A 7-pin tap in the first frame of the third game robbed Ferraro of a shot at a perfect 300 score. After picking up the spare, he reeled off 11 consecutive strikes for the 290.

Hugo Gregory, of Glens Falls, who rolls against Ferraro in the Capital City Classic will be Buster's opponent next Sunday.

Has 242 Average
Bowling at a clip that would make him a match for any of the TV titans like Don Carter, Buzz Fazio and Lou Campi, Buster sent his six-game average on TV soaring to 242.

A week ago, in the opener of the TV series, Ferraro hammered games of 192-258-269 for a 719-676 victory over Darwin (Punk) Limmer, one of Albany's best.

Ferraro's 733 blast at Schenectady was part of a nine-game weekend package in which he averaged 227. He powered a 694 series against the Newburgh Charles Men's Shop Saturday night, as Forst Formosts swept to a 3-0 victory and followed with a 617 in a road match at Liberty.

Ferraro strung games of 238, 244 and 212 for the 694 at the Bowlerama lanes and 202-247-168 at Liberty.

Tuscaroras Take Land Case to FPC, Directed by Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tuscarora Indians carry to the Federal Power Commission today their fight to keep a Niagara Falls power project from swallowing up a part of their reservation.

The commission, which last January awarded a license to the Power Authority of the State of New York for the 700-million-dollar hydro-electric project on the Niagara River, is reopening the case on order of the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Acting on an appeal of the Tuscarora Nation, the court sent the case back to the commission Nov. 14.

Must Make Finding
The court held the commission could not license construction of a reservoir on the Tuscarora Reservation unless it could make a finding that the license would not interfere or be inconsistent with the purpose for which the reservation was created or acquired.

It sent the case back to the commission so that it "may explore the possibility of making that finding."

The New York State Power Authority wants 1,383 acres of the 6,249-acre reservation. It would be part of a planned 2,600-acre water storage reservoir.

The Court of Appeals said in its order that acquisition of the Indian land did not appear necessary to the construction of the project to the full extent of its planned scope.

"The acquisition is desirable solely from the standpoint of economy," the opinion said.

Millions of dollars are involved.

Moses Cites Cost
Power Authority Chairman Robert Moses has estimated that costs of changing the project to avoid taking Indian lands would add 200 million dollars to the price tag. There also have been expressions that such changes would increase power rates.

Employment is another matter involved.

Mayor Calvin Keller of Niagara Falls has expressed concern that failure to end the dispute would seriously threaten the economy of the area.

If, as Moses has said, work must stop in two months unless there is a settlement, some 3,000 men would be out of work. Job opportunities also would end for perhaps another 3,000. The agency is working on the reservation now under temporary authority of a federal court.

Both Moses and the Indians have rebuffed an appeal by Mayor Keller to negotiate their dispute.

Holman Urges Olympic Rules

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Basketball Coach Nat Holman of City College of New York proposes worldwide adoption of Olympic rules for basketball.

He said Sunday night that, with standardized rules, teams of all nations would be playing the same game.

In addition, he said, U. S. teams would become accustomed to Olympic rules and would no longer have to adjust to a different set of regulations when entering the international competitions.

Olympic rules include a 30-second time limit for shooting and a 14-foot foul line.

Holman, who is beginning his 34th season at CCNY, spoke at a dinner at Siena College.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The Knock-Hobie Armstrong-Down Club appears to be gaining momentum and attracting a legion of followers in some areas of the DUSO League, as Kingston High and Newburgh Academy prepare for the championship finale Thursday at Newburgh.

The big question of the moment in those quarters is not a matter of life and death on Burke Hill in Kingston.

Will Hobie Armstrong be chosen Player of the Year in the DUSO? Frankly, we don't know. The Knock-Hobie-Down Club is taking the position that only a tremendous performance by Hobie on Thanksgiving Day will earn him the accolade that was denied him in 1957 because of the DUSO Sportswriters Association rule which limits the honor to seniors. Certainly, Hobie Armstrong is just as good a ball player today as he was in 1957 and there was nobody close to him then.

History Against It:

We don't know whether Coach Bill Burke will turn Hobie loose on a mad, one-man stampede against Newburgh on Turkey Day, if the opportunity presents itself. Past history is against that kind of tactic, although it has been embraced by some DUSO coaches with disgusting regularity in the past. Bill Burke has never unleashed his thunderbolt to single-handedly destroy an opposing team. He could have... many times... in the past.

When Kingston High plays Newburgh it will be the final game in the toughest schedule ever attempted by a DUSO League school in the post-war period. And maybe for all-time. No other DUSO opponent can offer a slate that includes mighty Mont Rochelle, undefeated Vincentian of Albany and the ponderous Mont Pleasant aggregation.

Kingston tied Vincentian, defeated all-winning Poughkeepsie and will shatter the unbeaten legions of Newburgh on Turkey Day.

Championship Comes First

First things come first with Coach Bill Burke and winning the DUSO League championship and knocking NFA off for the sixth straight year are the primary target. Individual honors come where you find them.

If Hobie hasn't had the glare of the spotlight focused on him as much as other one-man operations in the DUSO, there is a simple explanation. Hobie was surrounded by such as Jerry McDonough, John Parete, Bob Beadle and Tony Uhl to make up the best all-around backfield the DUSO League in many years. There never was any occasion to run Armstrong into exhaustion just for the sadistic delight of crushing an opponent.

Coach Burke used Armstrong on offense only eight times against Middletown, playing him almost exclusively on defense. The game was played on a wet, treacherous gridiron and Burke was more concerned about Hobie's well being than running up the score against the hapless Middies. "Why take chances and ruin a kid's career in a game where we could win with or without him," was the way Burke explained it. And it makes pretty good horse sense.

Two Predictions:

When the time comes for the Player of the Year balloting we think not only Hobie, but Jerry McDonough will have strong credentials going for them at the bargaining table. In the meantime, paste these predictions in your hat:

1) Kingston will whip Newburgh for the sixth straight time and retire the DUSO League trophy.
2) Hobie Armstrong will prove he is still the No. 1 back in the DUSO League.

B. Ferraro on Rampage

Forsts Rout Newburgh, Annex Two at Liberty

Buster Ferraro, the new TV bowling sensation, set the pace with a 218 average for six games, as Forst Formosts flattened Charles Men's Shop of Newburgh, 3-0, Saturday night at the Bowlerama and the Liberty Triangle Diners, 2-1, Sunday night at Liberty.

Ferraro put together 238-244-212 against the Charles Shop and Tom Carlino furnished a 618 assist (211-204-203), to deliver a shattering blow to the Newburghers' hopes of overcoming the league-leading Dutches Recs.

Forsts routed 2986 on team slams of 1048, 1004 and 934. Joe Shies paced Newburgh with 592.

Ferraro and Carlino again formed the one-two punch at Liberty where Tom opened with a 253 solo and added 179-170 for 602.

Don Rampe, Liberty leadoff who won the recent All Star match game eliminations, shot 224-214-631 and Cliff Schoonmaker 234-618 for the Triangle Diner.

Joneses Sweep Kingstons
Jones Dairy racked up a 3004 team effort en route to a 3-0 sweep over the Kingston Five at the Bowlerama. Jack Ferraro fired 623, with 200-204-219, and Jim Amendola had 224-213-616 for the Dairyman. Phil Battaglia shot 222-207-608 and Joe Ausanio 239-202-619 for the Kingstons Five.

Hawks Win Two Games For Easy Ed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS,
Now they know why they call Ed Macauley of the St. Louis Hawks "Easy Ed."

He finds it easy winning as a coach in the National Basketball Assn.

Since taking over from Andy Phillip last week, Macauley has guided the Hawks to two victories in as many games. They defeated Minneapolis 114-109 Saturday night and Cincinnati 100-89 in Sunday's nationally-televized game.

The Hawks, however, have been unable to gain ground on Detroit, runner-up to St. Louis in the Western Division. The Pistons turned back Minneapolis 124-109 Sunday night after beating Cincinnati 103-86 Saturday.

In another Sunday night game, Jack George's three points in the final 49 seconds gave the Philadelphia Warriors a 110-107 win over the Syracuse Nationals.

Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovellette shared scoring honors for St. Louis Sunday with 24 points apiece. Cincinnati now has won only two games in 11 starts.

It's George Again

George Yardley was the big man for Detroit Sunday night, scoring 34 points as the Pistons increased their second place margin over Minneapolis to two games. Rookie Elgin Baylor had 30 for the Lakers.

George scored 11 points in a final quarter rally for the Warriors. Red Kerr had 25 points for Syracuse.

In other Saturday night games, the New York Knickerbockers roared to their 10th victory in 11 starts — and eighth straight — by beating Syracuse 114-99, and Boston nipped Philadelphia, 105-100.

MacPhail Starts New Oriole Post

BALTIMORE (AP)—Lee MacPhail takes over today as general manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

The 41-year-old baseball executive was serving as director of player personnel for the New York Yankees when he agreed Nov. 5 to take the Oriole job. He is the son of Larry MacPhail, former owner of the Yanks.

Paul Richards, who held the dual role as manager-general manager for four years, will devote his time to the playing field under the new setup.

READY FOR THE BIG ONE—Members of the Kingston High school football team are poised and ready for Thursday's championship battle at Newburgh with NFA. Returning Lettermen Bolster Cage Hopes at Wallkill School

Coach Ernie Thompson has four lettermen returning and his 1958-59 Wallkill Central school basketball team boasts height. But, without that all-important backcourt man to bring the ball in, the Blue Devils may not finish any better than the number three spot they ended up with a year ago.

Bill Labriola, a solid senior, will be the big man to replace this season. He did not report for the hardwood sport. Also missing, because of graduation, are Ted Williams, Pete Eckert, Ed Kopaskie and Greg VanDuzer. On hand, however, are four solid lettermen, all well up in the height department. They include Gene and Ralph Bilbao, Wallkill's solid "twin" punch; big Henry Hecht and Pat Melville.

The Bilbaos, now juniors, were good enough to spark the team as sophs last year. Hecht, though temporarily bothered by a bad foot should make it by the time the league season opens.

Other varsity team members include Alan Auchmoody, Bob Edebohls, Jim Mooney, Don Quinn, Jim Riley, Ed Rhine and Bob Wright, all juniors' and Elmer Holbert, a senior.

Wallkill lost a 63-61 decision to Monroe-Woodbury in its first start Friday night. This week the Blue Devils will entertain Liberty, the DUSO league champion.

The schedule:
Nov. 21 Monroe-Woodbury Home
Nov. 28 Liberty Home
Nov. 28 Montgomery Away
Dec. 9 Monroe-Woodbury Away
Dec. 12 *Highland Home

Church Cage Loop Slates Meeting

Representatives of teams entered in the Protestant Church and Sunday School Basketball League will meet at the YMCA Tuesday, 7:15 o'clock, according to General Secretary Lou Schaffer.

Two leagues will be organized. One will be for boys between 14 and 17 years of age with all games being played at the George Washington school gym on Monday nights. Another league will be for boys under 14 years of age, with contests slated at the YMCA gym on Friday and Saturday afternoons.

All church groups that participated last season are expected to attend the meeting. Everyone in the Kingston area is welcome.

Easier to Hit a Spot

Advocates of spot bowling are many... and with good reason. They maintain that to hit a spot 15 feet away from the foul line is easier than to hit a spot 15 feet away from the foul line.

Using the spot bowling method, the bowler picks out a board approximately nine or 10 from the right or a range-finder over which he rolls his ball. He lines up his right shoulder with that spot and the 1-3 pocket. He concentrates on a straight line approach and rolls the ball directly over the selected spot.

If the ball goes to the right or left of the target, you should either move your spot or change your position at the foul line where you release the ball.

When the ball goes to the 1-3 pocket you have found your spot. Strive to hit it consistently.

Once your spot is set for your particular ball, it will be easier for you to get strikes more consistently than by aiming at the pins 60 feet away.

NEXT: Spare shooting.

KEY—The second range-finder from the right is Tony Lindemann's favorite spot. It's no more than 15 feet from his eyes.

Palm Beach Golf To Pete Cooper

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Pete Cooper added $2,000 to his bankroll today with a sudden death playoff victory in the $15,000 West Palm Beach Open Golf Tournament.

Cooper, 43-year-old pro from Lakeland, Fla., played steady, sub-par golf on the final round Sunday to finish with a 70 and 269, tying Wesley Ellis Jr. of Alder, N.J.

Then

The usual "reliable source" tips us off that Oregon State's Tommy Prothro is headed back to his alma mater, Duke, as head coach . . . one factor bringing him south: the health of his dad, Doc Prothro, the old Phillies' manager . . . and, from the Blue Devil point of view, a dismal drop in attendance.

Harry Gotkin, the Brooklynite who ships basketball players to North Carolina, did Big Jim Tatum a favor, too . . . when he also sent Al Goldstein—an end of All-America dimensions. . .

But for a quirk in the weather, Elgin Baylor, the franchise-saving rookie of the Minneapolis Lakers, might be a pogo-catching football pro like his old teammate, R. C. Owens. . . Elgin first showed up on the College of Idaho campus as a grizzer . . . it rained that day he reported and the coach took the boys inside to get a little exercise on the hardwood. . . Elgin looked so good spinning the round ball they wouldn't let him put on pads again.

Football scouts not enamored of Iowa's Randy Duncan as a pro prospect . . . they doubt his ability to throw the long ball. . .

Baltimore guard Art Spinney was giving tackle Rosey Grier of New York a tough time, with Rosey finally grumbling at the referee to "Watch that man, he's holding me." . . . so when the ref adjusted his bifocals on Spinney on the next play, Art put his shoulder to the 280-pound Rosey and jolted him a full four yards back and into the air . . . then turned sweetly and asked, "How was that?" . . .

In Chicago we found a noticeable lack of enthusiasm for any Basilio-Robinson re-match . . . best summed up by restaurateur Gibby: "You read the book twice." . . .

The old switcheroo: the San Francisco Forty Niners released linebacker Marv Matuszak, who went from an amazing all-pro season in '57 to uselessness in '58 . . . because, says Phil Bengton, "His legs are shot (at the age of 27) . . . and because they had a chance to pick up Jerry Tubbs, dropped by the Cardinals. . . so now who's supposed to be interested in Matuszak? The Cardinals, of course. . .

The Cleveland Browns, say the pros, are running into trouble because of Paul Brown's insistence on sending in the plays . . . every other team gives the QB the option of changing his play on the line of scrimmage . . . while the Browns, once the play is called, have to hammer against defenses that stunt and stack. . .

Doubt if any other team has an Indian contingent like the Giants. . . Phil King, called the Chief, is one-sixteenth Cherokee; Cliff Livingston is one-eighth Red man. . . Charley Conerly claims one-thirty-second Indian blood. . . and Don Chandler went to an Indian school on a reservation in Oklahoma and played in the Junior Rose Bowl with an Indian jaycee team known as the Sycamores . . . which, Don explains with a grin, means "white man" in Injun talk. . .

You don't hear any more gripes from Notre Dame about telecasting restrictions . . . they've beamed seven Irish games in a row on local, regional and national TV. . .

The deluge of effigy-banging around the nation doesn't perturb Forest Evashevski of Iowa. . . "Before they ever get around to me," he says, "I'm going to hang one right in the front yard and pin a big 'ME' on it."

Between you'n me, the pros might also check on the future grid availability of Bob Reifsnnyder . . . whose Achilles tendon ruined his senior year . . . not to mention Navy. . .

The Ivy Leaguer who's got the pros most excited is Jake Crouthamel, hard-nosed Dartmouth halfback . . . already being bombarded with queries by the LA Rams . . . in his junior year, yet. . .

Haughton Named Driver of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Harness driver Bill Haughton holds the annual Proximity Achievement Award of the U. S. Harness Writers Assn.

He received it last night at the writers' 10th annual dinner for his contributions to the sport of harness racing.

The group also honored Haughton as leading heat-winning driver on the basis of 169 heats so far this year. It was the seventh straight time he had received the annual nomination.

Belle Acton, was named horse of the year. The horse is owned by George Landers of Kittery, Me., and is one of the horses driven by Haughton.

Jack Ackerman of Detroit received the Paul DeWeng Trophy as the outstanding driver of 1957.

Mike Lee, sports editor of The Long Island Press, was re-elected president. Jack Schultz of Garden City Newsday was named honorary chairman of the board of directors.

Bob Zellner, sports editor of Newsday, was named first vice president; William Connolly of Saratoga Springs, second vice president; Richard W. Fairbanks of Briarcliff Manor, treasurer, and Ed Binneweg, Long Island Press, secretary.

Syracuse Set For Third Try At Bowl Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Syracuse University football squad will make a third foray into the South in search of a bowl victory.

The squad will play Oklahoma New Year's Day in the Orange Bowl.

Syracuse will be returning to the scene of one of the worst drubbings it ever took—a 61-6 thrashing from Alabama in the 1953 Orange Bowl.

In 1957, Syracuse lost to Texas Christian University, 28-27, in the Cotton Bowl.

The big to the Orange Bowl followed Syracuse's 15-12 victory over West Virginia on Saturday.

The game closed out the Orange's regular 1958 season. The club has a record of 8 and 1. The loss was to Holy Cross by one point.

The University of Buffalo also wound up its season with an 8-1 record as it defeated Bucknell, 38-0, Saturday. Buffalo had its best season in 61 years this year.

Two Thanksgiving Day games close the regular college football schedule for Upstate New York. Colgate will play Brown at Providence and Cornell will play Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Quarterback Chuck Zimmerman fired passes to end Dave Baker for both Syracuse touchdowns Saturday in the game at Morgantown, W. Va. Fullback Keiffer picked up two conversion points on a run and Al Gerlick placekicked for the third.

Five Buffalo players shared five touchdowns in the Bulls' home game. The squad made good on four two-point conversions.

Arthur Murray Wins Two Games

Arthur Murray Studio of Kingston scored an upset in Rip Van Winkle League bowling matches Sunday by taking two games from Jones Dairy, formerly the Nottingham Aces. Joe Micozzi was the big man with a 604 triple on consistent games of 203-199-202. Fred Ferraro topped the Jones stickmen with 201-226-188-615.

In another local match, Central Five won a pair from Miron Lumber. Oscar Zimmerman rolled 547 for Central and John "Lottie" Cashara had 581 for Miron.

Alfred U. Honors "Losing" Coach

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP) — Alfred University football coach Alex Yunevich has the sort of support from fans and alumni that most coaches can only dream of.

After the worst season in Alfred history, a group of them is giving Yunevich a dinner here tonight and a trophy of appreciation.

The season—one victory, seven defeats—is being dismissed as merely one of the prices of competition.

Both Yunevich and his admirers remember the balmy days of the recent past and are sure the coach will bring them back.

In 1955 and 1956, the Saxons were unbeaten and untied. After the 1956 season, Yunevich, former Purdue star, was honored as "small college coach of the year" by the Washington Touchdown Club.

Inexperience Hurt
This year his team was staffed largely with new and inexperienced men but, an Alfred official commented, "Alex really gets the most out of his boys. It's one of those intangibles, of course, but we're looking for great improvement next year."

When Yunevich himself was asked if he knew what his worst record was he answered: "Gosh, I don't know. I'd have to look it up. That's water over the dam anyways; I've got enough to worry about next season."

Since he came to Alfred 18 years ago, Yunevich has won 89 games, lost 34 and tied six.

And that, says his fans, rates the special salute tonight.

NAIC Prepares For Playoffs

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics expects to complete arrangements for its football playoffs by Tuesday.

Selection of unbeaten Arizona State of Flagstaff as the fourth team was made Sunday.

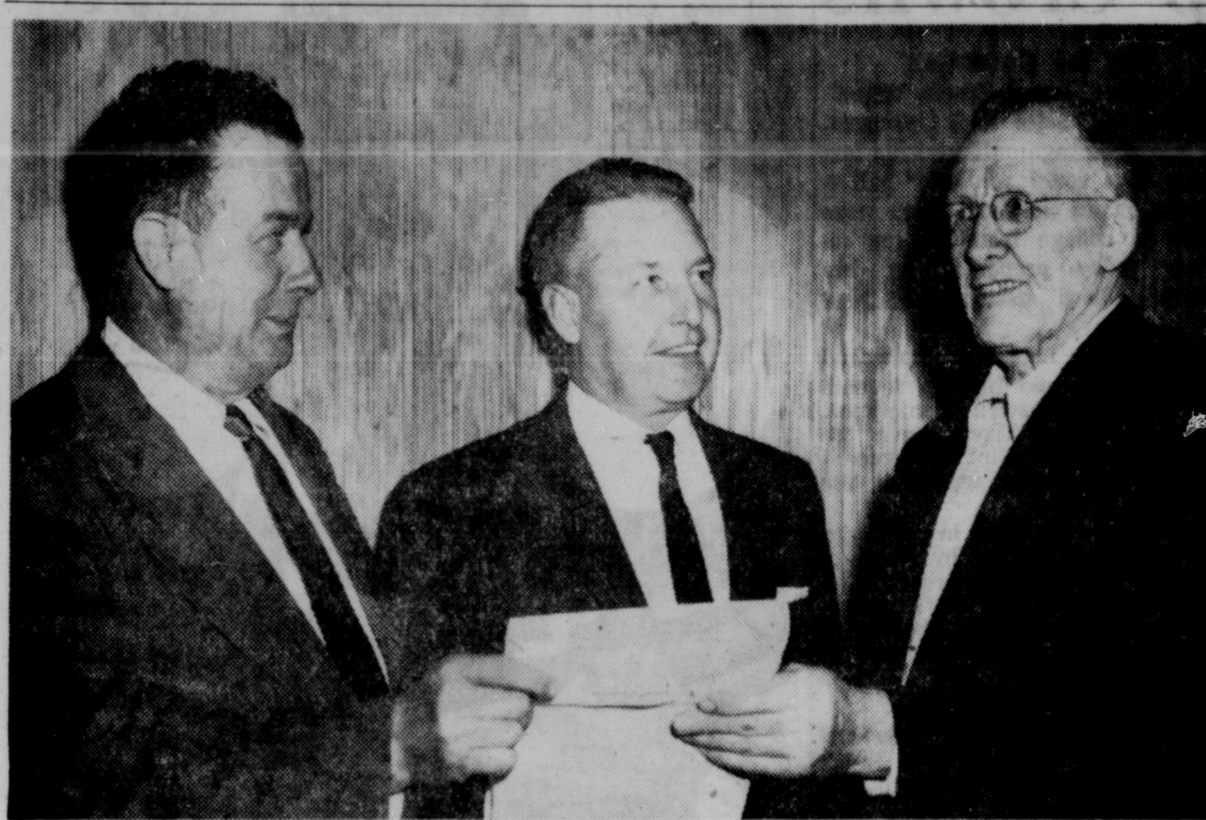

One of the two playoff games Dec. 6 will be at Tulsa. The site and pairings of the second game have not been determined.

The other unbeaten teams are St. Benedict's of Atchison, Kan.; Northeastern Oklahoma State and Gustavus Adolphus, St. Peter, Minn.

Winners will battle for the national championship at St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 20.

Canadian Final Same as in 1957

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—The Hamilton Tiger-Cats and the Winnipeg Blue Bombers stage a repeat of their 1957 playoff Saturday when they meet for the Grey Cup and the Canadian pro football championship. Hamilton won last year 32-7.

The Tiger-Cats repeated as champions of the Big Four Saturday, defeating the Ottawa Rough Riders 19-7 for a 45-14 edge in their home-and-home series.

Winnipeg wrapped up the Western League title by trouncing Edmonton 23-7 in the deciding game of their best-of-three series.

Johnny Unitas, a Colt with a .45 for a passing arm, is healthy again.

He proved it Sunday, shooting down the title bid of the Los Angeles Rams and passing Baltimore to a 34-7 victory. It was the Colts' eighth triumph in nine National Football League games. Baltimore now leads the Western Conference by two games with only three to play.

And Bobby Mitchell, Paul Brown's young speedster, is zooming toward acclaim as pro football's Rookie of the Year.

He looked it Sunday, shaking loose for a 98-yard touchdown run on the opening kickoff, then coming back in the same period with a 69-yard score on a punt return as the Cleveland Browns whipped the Philadelphia Eagles 28-14. Cleveland, with a 7-2 record, leads the Eastern Conference by one game with three remaining.

Stay Close
The New York Giants kept a game behind Cleveland with a 30-0 victory over the Washington Redskins, and the Pittsburgh Steelers, another game to the rear, hung on to the Giants' tail with a 27-20 triumph over the Chicago Cardinals.

In the West, the Chicago Bears took over sole possession of second place by beating the Detroit Lions 20-7 while Los Angeles faltered. The Lions' defeat eliminated the defending world champions from title consideration. The San Francisco 49ers moved past them into fourth place with a 33-12 victory over the last-place Green Bay Packers.

Hits Moore
Unitas, who suffered two cracked ribs in the Green Bay game three weeks ago, lit that spark the first time he passed. Dodging tackles behind scrimmage at his own 42, he hit speedy receiver Lennie Moore on the Ram 18 and the ex-Penn State halfback kept going for the score.

The play gave Unitas 22 straight NFL games in which he has passed for at least one TD. The record is 23.

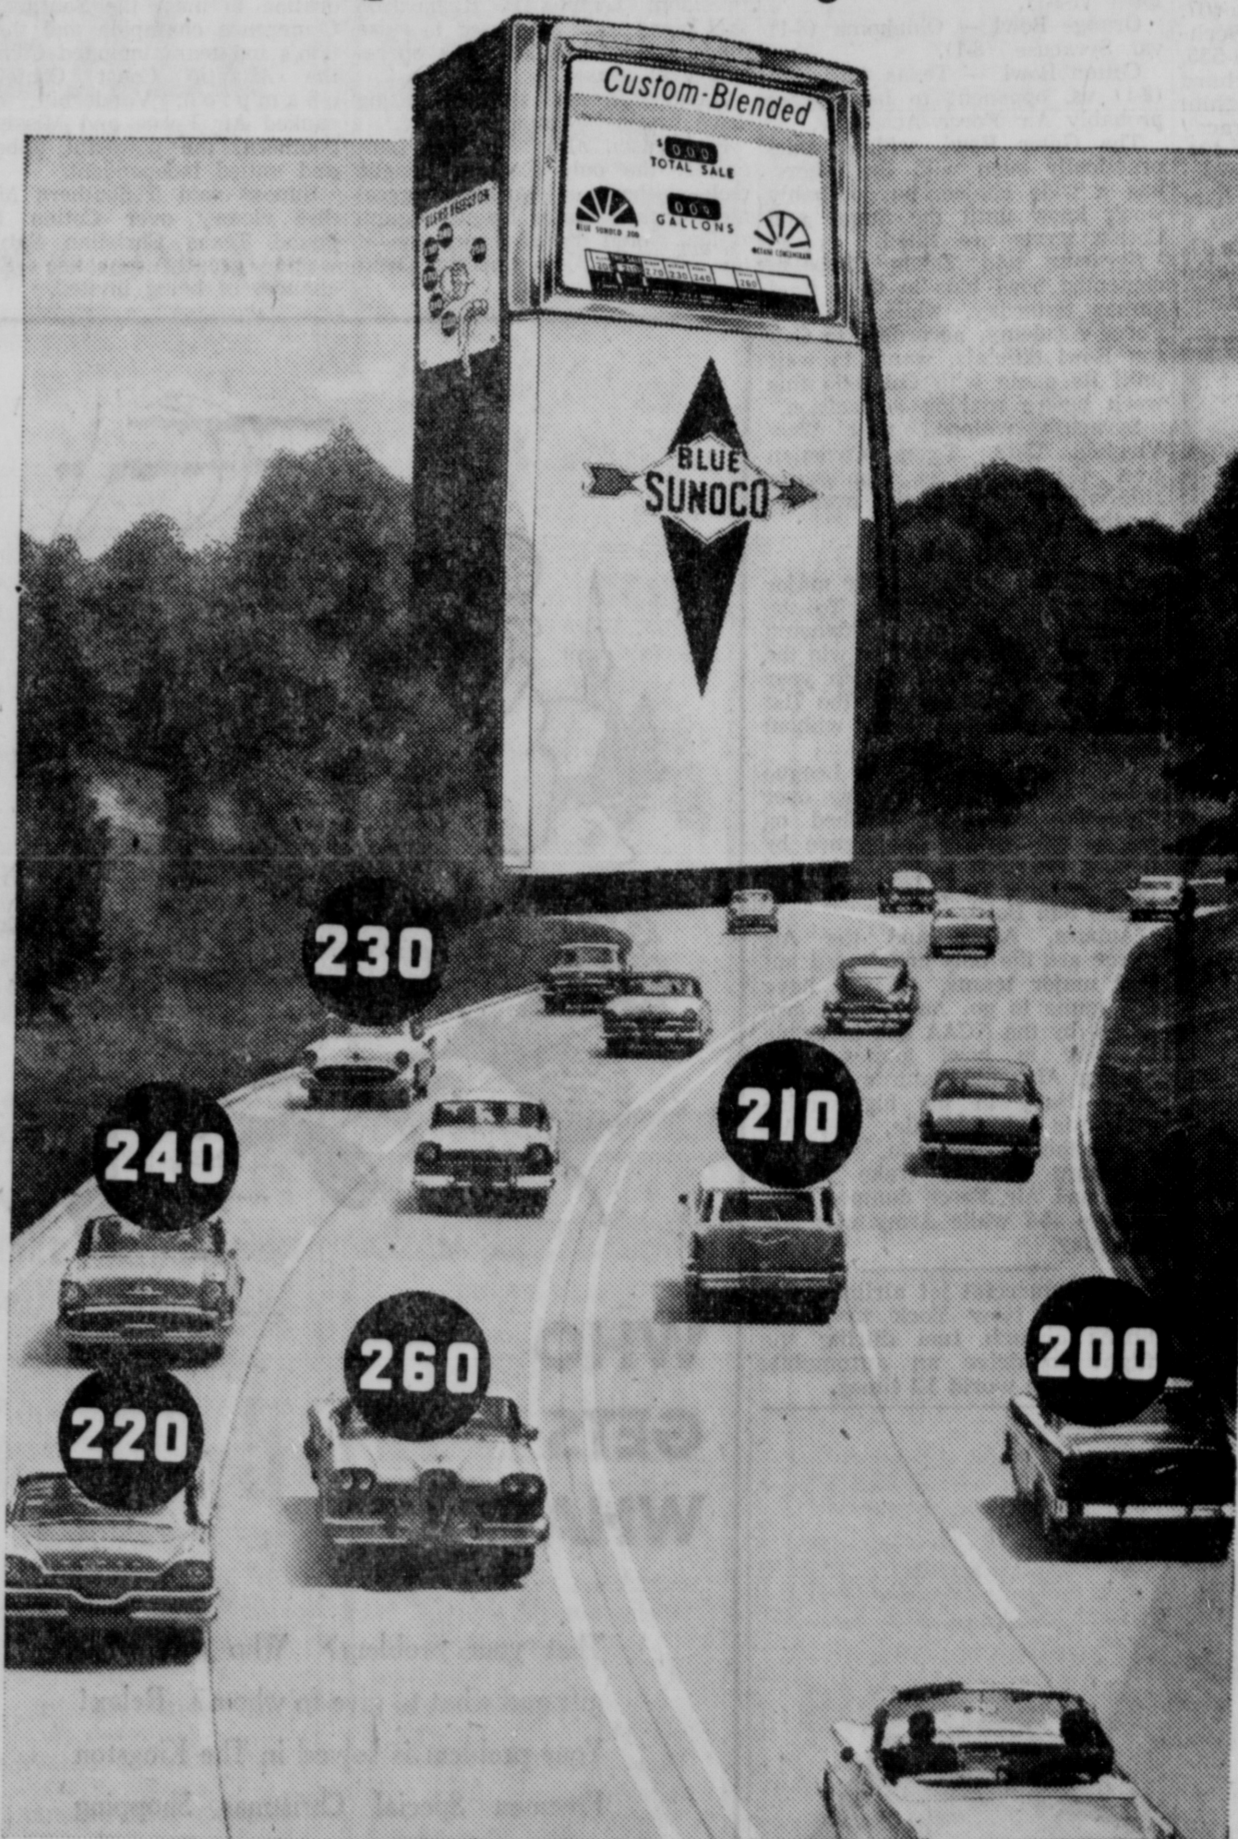

It was Unitas' 13th scoring pass of the season, and he later made it 14 by hitting Jim Mutcheller with an 12-yard TD toss in the Colts' 21-point fourth period. In that same period, Unitas scored on a one-yard plunge. He passed for 218 yards over-all, connecting on 14 of 20.

Louisiana State and California, a couple of ragamuffin outfits last year that could win only half a dozen games between them, were high in college football's top society today preparing for important bowl assignments New Year's Day.

Last year, Louisiana State had a 5-5 record and finished seventh in the Southeastern Conference. This year, the Tigers have the only undefeated-untied record among the major teams of the country.

They'll be the hosts in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans by virtue of having won their conference title. It will be their first bowl appearance since 1950 when they were slaughtered by Oklahoma 35-0 in the Sugar Bowl.

Ten Straight
LSU swept past 10 opponents and didn't stumble once. They wound up their first undefeated-untied season since 1908 Saturday by grinding out a 62-0 victory over Tulane.

Their Sugar Bowl opponent may not be known until next Saturday when the last sprinkling of games are played. Southern Methodist is being considered, but the Mustangs will have to beat Cotton Bowl-bound Texas Christian. Otherwise, Clemson, the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, probably will get the bid.

Big Surprise
As for California, the Bears compiled a miserable 1-9 record in 1957. They were consigned to the scrap heap in this the final year of the Pacific Coast Conference as it now stands.

But, after losing to College of the Pacific and Michigan State, they suddenly caught on to the split-T which Elliott had installed last year. They lost only one more game and wrapped up the title with a breathless 16-15 triumph over Stanford.

California will meet Iowa, the Big Ten champion, in the Rose Bowl, and, just as in almost all its games through the fall, will be the underdog. Iowa closed its regular season Saturday, whipping Notre Dame 31-21.

So here is how the major bowls shape up at the moment:

Sugar Bowl Louisiana State (10-0) vs. opponent to be chosen, probably Southern Methodist or Clemson.

Rose Bowl—California (7-3) vs. Iowa (7-1-1).

Orange Bowl — Oklahoma (8-1) vs. Syracuse (8-1).

Cotton Bowl — Texas Christian (8-1) vs. opponent to be chosen, probably Air Force Academy.

The Gator Bowl, which ranks practically even with the others, has a wide choice, but probably won't know until the Sugar and Cotton bowls are filled.

Syracuse and Texas Christian cemented bowl bids in their final games Saturday, while the Air Force Academy, according to Cotton Bowl officials, wants to wait until its game with Colorado this week before making a decision.

Syracuse whipped past West Virginia 15-12. Texas Christian won the Southwest Conference title with a 21-10 decision over defending champion Rice.

Races Settled
Champions in three other major conferences were settled. To the surprise of no one, Oklahoma trampled Nebraska 40-7 to win the Big Eight title for the 11th year in a row. It also marked the 71st straight conference game without defeat for the Sooners.

Dartmouth won the Ivy League crown with a 21-12 victory over Princeton. Wyoming finished on top in the Skyline Conference by licking Brigham Young 22-14 and then accepted an invitation to play in the Sun Bowl.

Auburn, Army and the Air Force are the only undefeated but tied major teams. All still have one game to go. Auburn, on probation by the NCAA and ineligible to play in bowl games, goes against Alabama Saturday. Army plays Navy in the big service game in Philadelphia, and Air Force tackles Colorado.

Auburn stopped Wake Forest 21-7, and Air Force dumped New Mexico 45-7 while Army was idle Saturday.

Brown Places Three Players On Ivy League All Star Team

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A team of student-athletes rated about B in the classroom and A plus on the gridiron represents the Ivy League this year.

The 1958 Associated Press All-Ivy football team is a group of experienced senior sand juniors, averaging 202 pounds in the line and 180 in the backfield. It isn't possible to strike an exact scholastic average because of different grading systems and because the lads are just now getting midterm results. But there's evidence to show it isn't a team of muscular chowderheads.

It includes two members—end Norm Juvonen and tackle Ed Savitsky—who hold Cornell's highest academic scholarships, the Cornell National. Both are studying electrical engineering. Savitsky with an 80 average and Juvonen a bit higher. The other end, Penn's Barney Berlinger, son of the former decathlon champion, has an average just under 80 as a civil engineer.

Brown's three representatives, center Don Warburton, quarterback Frank Finney and fullback Paul Choquette, all have averages of C or higher. Warburton, one of two players picked for the second time for All-Ivy honors by the AP Eastern Selection Board, has Bs in three courses last semester as a math-economic major.

Princeton's two first-team players, halfback John Heyd and guard Joe DeDeo are good students, the former in religion and the latter in psychology.

Completing the first team are Alvin Kruttsch, guard, and John Crouthamel, halfback, from Dartmouth and Bob Shaunessy, Harvard's big tackle and captain.

Shaunessy is the second holder over last year's All-Ivy team.

He's a 6-foot-2, 220 pounder who has drawn some attention from pro scouts. He and Cornell's 205-pound Savitsky form the solid anchor of the line.

At guard, Kruttsch is the key man in the Dartmouth defense, best in the Ivy League. DeDeo, a fast-moving 200-pounder, is the blocker who makes Princeton's intricate single wing offense click.

Both ends are superior pass catchers and blockers and, as one observer who had suffered through Penn's lean years remarked:

"Berlinger is the kind of player who makes it a pleasure to go out there on Saturday afternoon."

Warburton, Finney and Choquette are the middle men who made Brown's offense about the strongest in the league this year, but all three won their first team berths by narrow margins.

Warburton, a fine defensive player last season, improved his blocking enough to beat out Princeton's Frank Szvetez. Finney, the circuit's top passer, outplayed Cornell's often brilliant Tom Skyeck in their personal duel and was more consistent all season. The hard-running Choquette edged Princeton Captain Fred Tiley.

Halfbacks Crouthamel and Heyd had durability and consistency to go with other football virtues. These were important in a season which saw Princeton's "sure thing" tailback, Danny Sachs, hobbled by injuries and other good players guilty of erratic performances.

Army, Navy Showing Each Other Respect

By HERB THOMPSON
ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Army and Navy are showing a traditionally healthy respect for each other's football prowess as they prepare for their annual football battle at Philadelphia Saturday.

Steven Belichick, chief scout for Navy, calls the Cadets "the most explosive football team I've ever seen—much better and entirely different from the team we beat last year."

And Army's top scout, Dale Hall, said the Middies have a "tremendous" squad which could pose more of a threat to the Cadets than the one which won 14-0 last year.

"Their passing attack is stronger than it has been, and in (halfback) Joe Bellino they have a greater individual threat," Hall sums up. "As a sophomore he has made mistakes, but he has made fewer and fewer and is one of the finest runners in the country if not the finest."

Rate Dawkins Best
Belichick counters that Army halfback Pete Dawkins "is the finest all-around back I've seen in college football."

He says Dawkins is a great team leader—a "take charge" guy who sets the pace for the Cadets—a tremendous runner, good passer, good blocker.

But the strength of the undefeated Cadets runs much deeper than individual players, the Navy backfield coach says.

"This team has impressed me more than any others because they do many things well and are so explosive," he says. "They can kill you either passing or running."

Passing Team

This year Army is also a passing team—one of the nation's finest—and both Dawkins and Anderson take a hand in this along with quarterback Joe Caldwell.

Army scout Hall, considers Navy's passing attack, guided by junior quarterback Joe Tranchini, and the running of Bellino, on punt and kickoff returns as well as rushing plays, to be major factors for Army to stop.

Directors Plan Help for Albany

NEW YORK (AP)—The directors of the Eastern Baseball League say they have full confidence in Tom McCaffrey, owner and president of the Albany club, and want to help him raise funds.

The directors gave McCaffrey a vote of confidence Sunday at the league's annual fall meeting. President Thomas P. Richardson said plans were discussed to raise funds and assure Albany's operation next season.

Richardson said a ticket-selling drive would be launched later.

Richardson also said that Lancaster, the only Eastern League club without a working agreement with a major league organization, would try to secure one at the National Assn. meeting next week in Washington.

Sugar Bowl Bides Time on Pairings

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Sugar Bowl marked time today, waiting for Saturday's games before announcing an opponent for Louisiana State in the Jan. 1 game.

Sugar Bowl President Claude M. Simons said teams under consideration to meet the Southeastern Conference champion and the nation's top team included Clemson, the Atlantic Coast Conference champion; Vanderbilt, ninth-ranked Air Force and Mississippi Southern, the powerful unbeaten and untied independent.

Simons said a Southern Methodist victory over Cotton Bowl-bound Texas Christian Saturday would greatly enhance SMU's chances of being invited.

Ivy League Final Makes Dopesters Look Like Seers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Those smug looking individuals waiting around to shake Dartmouth's hand today are the Ivy League experts who predicted that Dartmouth and Princeton would go right down to the wire and fight for the title in their final game.

That's exactly what happened Saturday and the Indians won their first Ivy title since 1938, 21-12. There were times when the experts faltered a bit, particularly as the Tigers bungled a bit here and there but always managing to have the right answer.

They had it as late as the third quarter Saturday before quarterback Billy Gundy limbered up a passing arm that helped account for 134 yards. The Tigers scored twice through the air, but wound up with nine yards passing on only three completions.

The victory evened a score for Dartmouth, which lost to Princeton under similar circumstances last year.

Johnnies Get Even

Harvard settled a score Saturday too, averaging a 54-0 drubbing by Yale in '57 with a neat 28-0 whitewashing of the Eli. Quarterback Chuck Ravenel engineered three scoring drives and scored once to send Yale to its seventh straight Ivy loss.

Columbia finished its season at the hands of Rutgers' Billy Austin who scored five touchdowns and 34 points, over half of his team's 61. The Lions were held scoreless for their fourth straight game and finished with an overall 1-8 record.

Either Cornell or Penn could tie Dartmouth for second place in the final standings with a victory in their annual Thanksgiving Day game in Philadelphia. Dartmouth is 5-2, Penn and Cornell 4-2. That game winds up the season for both teams, while Brown enters Colgate on Turkey Day in its finale. The Bruins finished the Ivy campaign with a 4-3 mark.

Richardson-Olmedo Gain Semi-Final Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SYDNEY (AP)—Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo, the probable U.S. Davis Cup doubles team, reached the semifinals of the New South Wales Tennis Tournament today, defeating Australians Roy Emerson and Bob Mark 4-6, 13-11, 10-8, 7-5.

The top Aussie pair of Mal Anderson and Neale Fraser kept pace, downing Andres Gimeno and Jose Arilla of Spain, 7-9, 11-9, 6-3, 6-1.

Wyoming Goes To the Sun Bowl

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Wy-

oming's Cowboys, football champions of the Skyline Conference, will make their second trip in three years to the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Tex.

The "Poke" players voted Sunday to accept an invitation to the Dec. 31 game at the Sun Bowl, where they scored a 21-14 victory over Texas Tech in the 1956 contest.

The Cowboys had a 7-3 record this season, losing to Kansas State, New Mexico and Air Force.

Hershey Clicks With Two Goalies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hershey is the only American Hockey League team with two regular goalies. And it's paying dividends during the Bears' drive to overtake the leading Buffalo Bisons.

Sunday night, goalie Gil Mayer of the Bears was awarded to leave the game in Springfield early in the second period. He was hit on the bridge of the nose.

Under ordinary conditions, Hershey would have been forced to use a spare netminder provided by the home team. But the Bears are carrying Bobby Perrault, whom they acquired from the Quebec League.

Perrault did a fine job and Hershey went on for a 5-3 victory. Arnie Kuman scored two third-period goals for the winners.

The fast-climbing Bears moved to within four points of the Bisons, who were defeated by Cleveland 3-2. In the other game, Harry Lumley registered his second straight shutout as Providence beat Rochester 4-0.

Lumley blanked Cleveland 2-0 Saturday night. In other Saturday games, Buffalo and Hershey battled to a 2-2 tie and Rochester rounced Springfield, 8-2.

Two Are Convicted Of Slaying, Took Place 18 Yrs. Ago

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP)—Sheriff Ray Wilson's probe of his father's 18-year-old slaying has ended in conviction of two Crestview brothers.

The Okaloosa County officer was a 12-year-old boy when a shotgun blast fatally wounded Crestview Police Chief Lester Wilson. The boy grew up, became sheriff two years ago and launched a new investigation that reached out as far as Texas and North Carolina for witnesses.

A Circuit Court jury Sunday found Jesse Cayson, 36, and Cayson's brother Doyle, 31, guilty of first degree murder in the 1940 killing. It recommended mercy, which means sentences of life imprisonment for both men.

William Dorace Brown, 49, accused with the Caysons, was acquitted.

A prosecution witness, Mrs. Mattie Lee Taylor Boeck of San Antonio, Tex., testified she saw the three defendants in a cafe the night of the slaying and later saw them follow Wilson in a car with lights off.

Mrs. Boeck said she was beaten up later that night by an unidentified assailant who threatened worse "if you don't forget what you saw tonight."

Another prosecution witness, Mrs. Marjorie King of Rocky Mount, N.C., said she heard three men urge Jesse Cayson to go to the state mental hospital at Chattahoochee because they had heard he was going around the county saying he had shot Wilson.

Cayson testified he was sent to the hospital in 1943 because he was "too full of whisky."

Both Caysons and Brown contended they were elsewhere when Wilson was killed.

Arab, Tunisia Feud Increased by Arrests

TUNIS (AP)—Bad feeling between the governments of Tunisia and the United Arab Republic increased today after Tunisia's arrest of several Egyptian officers charged with trying to stir up Algerian rebels against their own leaders.

President Habib Bourguiba said in a speech at Gabes Sunday that Tunisian police made the arrests. But he gave no details as to the number arrested, where they were being held or the purpose of their alleged activities.

Tunisia and the U.A.R. are rivals to influence the new Algerian government - in-exile proclaimed in Cairo.

AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Producer Stanley Kramer has passed up Hollywood's big names to team an unknown with four top stars in "On the Beach."

She is Donna Anderson, a pretty, 19-year-old dancer whose success story is an unusual one. On Jan. 1, she will fly to Australia to join Gregory Peck, Ava Gardner, Fred Astaire and Tony Perkins in Kramer's production of the Nevil Shute novel.

Admits She's Scared

How does she feel about all this?

"Scared," she admitted.

And well she might be, stepping in with such fast company. But Kramer has faith in her. In fact, his faith has extended for the four years in which he has kept her under personal contract. Here's how it all happened:

Donna was a 15-year-old dance student at one of Hollywood's ballet schools. She took part in a recital to which Kramer and his wife were invited by choreographer Eugene Loring. It's reported the producer was impressed with Donna.

Helped Other Careers

"I think Mrs. Kramer was impressed," Donna corrected. At any rate, she was invited with her mother and grandmother to visit the studio, where Kramer advised dramatic lessons for Donna. When it appeared that family couldn't afford such expense, he decided to put the young girl under exclusive contract. It was the first time he had ever done so, though he sparked the careers of Kirk Douglas, Grace Kelly, and Marlon Brando.

Then followed four years of intensive training, with dramatic coaches as well as dance teachers.

TV Test Was Break

"The break came when I tested for a role in a TV show at Desilu Studios," she said. "I didn't get

Stevenson Says U. S. Must Realize Soviet Is Equal

CHICAGO (AP)—America must recognize that the Soviet Union is the equal of the United States, says Adlai Stevenson, and "we must coexist with the Soviet Union on that level."

"The Russians do not want war any more than we do," he said. "The door to peace is through the corridor of negotiations. We should talk with the Russians on any level."

"They don't want war because it would interrupt their economic development. Their vast country is only now in the first stages of industrial and economic expansion, the same stage the U.S. was 50 to 75 years ago."

Stevenson, twice Democratic presidential candidate, made his remarks Sunday night on a Chicago television program.

Acquired Barking

Barking seems to have been acquired by dogs since their domestication. Wolves and other members of the same family in the natural state growl, howl and make other characteristic noises, but they never produce sounds properly described as barking.

the part, but Mr. Kramer saw the test and I guess he liked it. I never heard it from him but people around the studio started telling me that I was going to do the role of Tony Perkins' wife in 'On the Beach.'

"I wouldn't believe it, even when I was called in for wardrobe fittings. Then Mr. Kramer told me."

Now Hollywood may have a new star in this brown-haired beauty who admits being scared.

Guinea, Ghana Heads Will Merge Nations

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — The

premiers of Guinea and Ghana, Africa's two newest Negro nations, have agreed to merge their countries as the first step toward a union of West African states.

The agreement by Premiers Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana and Sekou Toure of Guinea is subject to ratification by their national assemblies.

Other West African states were invited to join the union. The likeliest prospect appeared to be Nigeria, which the British have agreed to make independent Oct. 1, 1960.

Guinea won independence from France seven weeks ago. Ghana attained independence from Britain in 1957 and became a republic within the Commonwealth.

Illness Is Reason Bonn Plea Continues

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist

press reports today said the replacement of Gen. Su Yu by Gen. Huang Ko Cheng as chief of staff of the Chinese Communist armed forces was due to Su's long illness, not to any dispute in the army.

Local Nationalist sources claim Su's replacement was followed by a general purge of senior Red army officers in which 80 top generals were knocked down to privates. But Communist press reports said the generals are serving only a short period as privates to get better acquainted with the lower ranks.

Despite its minus-70 degrees temperatures in Alaska during winter, there are frequent times when summer heat jumps to 100 degrees.

Bonn Plea Continues To Gain West Support

BONN, Germany (AP) — West

Germany's plea for a tough policy toward the Soviet Union on Berlin is gaining acceptance by the Western Powers, Foreign Office sources said today.

They said that the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is more than ever convinced it is necessary to get tough to counter threatened moves against the four-power status of Berlin.

Informants last week said Bonn told the Allies they should be prepared to go in with tanks and fighter planes if necessary to preserve their rights to free access to Berlin across the 110 intervening miles of Communist-ruled territory.

HERE'S NOVEMBER NEWS!

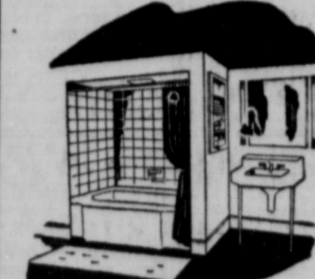

EASY WAYS TO FIX-UP
YOUR HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Your attic can be an interesting Studio-Guest Room. We'll show you how to do it.

Enclose your porch and have more year 'round living space. If you want to do some of the work, we'll show you how.

Bring your bathroom up to date before holiday guests arrive.

An extra bedroom will add to home comfort and market value.
